Soviet-Built Car Attacked By Irate Mob

Second Anniversary Of Barrier Marked By Demonstrations

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners released their pent-up hatred of the Berlin Wall Tuesday night and clashed with police in a demonstration marking the second anniversary of the barrier.

The day had been relatively quiet except for a mysterious blast in the early morning on the East Berlin side and a single gunshot.

Shouting: "The wall must go. The wall must go" the night crowd of 500 youths surged toward the Communists' wall to meet a phalanx of police near Checkpoint Charlie, crossing point for foreigners between East and West Berlin.

Police diverted the demonstrators and they dispersed, only to regroup immediately and march again against police barriers.

Finally police linked arms and stopped the crowd about 300 yards from Checkpoint Charlie. The crowd had grown to more than 1,000.

Soviet Auto Attacked

A Soviet-built car with East German diplomatic license plates drove up to the checkpoint from West Berlin. As it approached, several persons dashed from the crowd and kicked the car. A pole smashed against the rear window, shattering it.

The car, with its two occupants, did not stop and was waved through the checkpoint by U.S. military police.

After an hour of demonstrating at Checkpoint Charlie, a part of the crowd formed a procession and, continuing their chant, marched beside the wall.

From a bombed-out vacant lot several men threw stones at flood lights erected by the Communist East Germans to illuminate their side of the wall and possible escape routes for East Berliners.

The Reds did not retaliate to the rock-throwing incidents.

Maj. Gen. James H. Polk, U.S. commandant in Berlin, rushed to the scene and conferred with the West Berlin police commissioner as reinforcements of West Berlin police were rushed there.

Violent Protests Last Year

The demonstration came after a day of unusual calm in contrast to the series of violent protest demonstrations that marked the first anniversary of the wall last year.

This year's demonstration started when 200 youths gathered at Heinrich Heine Street, the crossover point for West Germans. They paraded along the wall and surged toward Checkpoint Charlie.

A number of persons were injured in scuffling with the police. At least three persons were arrested.

The unexplained explosion which occurred shortly before dawn in East Berlin sent a 30-foot high burst of flame that could be seen across the barbed wire-topped barricade. A single shot accompanied the explosion.

Third Flood In Three Weeks Hits Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Heavy rains caused the third flood in three weeks in the Buffalo area Tuesday, putting basements and streets under as much as four feet of water.

Four hospitals and the State University of Buffalo were hardest hit. The fire department dispatched ten pumpers to drain water from their properties.

Train Robbery Gang's Hideout

Race Pickets, Police Clash; Four Injured

CHICAGO (AP)—At least four persons were injured Tuesday as pickets and policemen clashed at a South Side site where workmen are attempting to install temporary mobile classrooms in a Negro neighborhood.

Three of the injured were policemen struck by hurled debris amid shouts of "police brutality."

Struck by a flying brick, but not injured, was Robert J. Lynsky, head of the police force which has ringed the construction site.

"This is no longer a demonstration," he said. "It is approaching the dimensions of a riot. I will no longer tolerate these rabble rousers and brick throwers."

The volley of rocks and chunks of cement was touched off as police struggled to put Negro and white demonstrators into patrol wagons.

A white man and a Negro who had chained themselves together were heaved into a patrol wagon. One of the prisoners stuck his head out of the patrol wagon door to shout "police brutality," and the rock throwing began, witnesses said.

As Lynsky threatened to clear the entire area of demonstrators he and picket representatives agreed to meet.

The 30-minute truck talk, ironically, was held in one of the mobile classrooms which workmen have succeeded in installing.

After the talk it was reported that demonstrators promised no more rock throwing, and that Lynsky would speak to his men about their treatment of pickets.

One of the injured policemen was struck on the forehead by a piece of concrete. The other two were less seriously hurt. The fourth injured was a woman. She was taken to a hospital with a head injury.

Nearly 100 pickets have been arrested during the two-day demonstration.

Thirteen remained in jail, including Negro comedian Dick Gregory. Their cases were continued until Thursday.

Demonstrators say the classrooms perpetuate de facto segregation in the city's schools. Integration leaders say Negro children and white children should share each school in Chicago.

Wrecked Plane Found In Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A U.N. Command spokesman said Tuesday a U.S. military aircraft, missing since Aug. 4 with six persons aboard, has been located crashed in the mountains. He said there was no sign of life in the area.

The spokesman said the small single-engine plane crashed 18 miles southwest of Kangsoong-ni, in South Korea, apparently after takeoff. Kangsoong-ni is a base 90 miles northeast of Seoul and 10 miles south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Korea.

Congo Mob Storms Jail, Frees Inmates; Five Slain

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (PA)—A growing distaste among labor unions for President Fulbert Youlou's government exploded Tuesday in a riotous jail delivery that freed every inmate of the Brazzaville city prison.

Striking workers stormed the prison in defiance of police guns and grenades. Diplomatic sources said at least five persons were killed and about a dozen wounded.

Liberation of some labor leaders arrested Monday night was the prime aim of the strikers, but the others were turned loose too when the mob finally opened the prison doors.

It was not determined exactly how many were freed.

Troops and armored vehicles were reported to have taken up positions around the palace of the president, a little, 46-year-old Roman Catholic priest once hailed as a Black Messiah.

There was no specific word on the president's whereabouts.

Ferry service was suspended between this former French equatorial African possession and Leopoldville, capital of the former Belgian Congo, 20 minutes away across the Congo River.

There has been muttering against Youlou since he got the National Assembly's approval April 13 of a law to institute a single party system for this nation of 795,000. He contended political unification is a necessity.

Youlou, a 5-footer, was baptized into the Roman Catholic Church in 1926. He later became a priest, but when he got into politics, the Church forbade him to say Mass. He went on wearing his robes anyway.

British Train Robbery Gang's Hideout Found

LONDON (AP)—Police swooped Tuesday on a lonely farmhouse used as a hideout by the gang that stole more than $7 million in Britain's great mail train robbery.

The gang fled the hideout only a few days ago. They left behind stocks of canned foods, a truck, two army type vehicles and mailbags—all empty.

The search for the ringleader spread to the plush French Riviera.

Detectives have concentrated their main search on the area within a 30-mile radius of the robbery spot on the Glasgow to London rail line. The lonely hideout was 18 miles away to the southeast as the crow flies.

Extra fingerprint and other experts moved into the hideout at Leatherslade farm, Oakley, 20 miles northwest of the university city of Oxford. Police cordoned off the entire area.

The robbery occurred Thursday.

The discovery came only hours after reports that two men hired to drive getaway cars for the gang had squealed to police. They were said to have been hired at a flat rate for the job but decided to call the police when they learned how much the gang had snatched.

It was possible such a tip off came in one of the thousand of telephone calls pouring into police headquarters and the offices of the insurance loss adjusters since the offer of $728,000 tax-free reward.

Miles from neighbors and main highways, the farmhouse was a perfect hideout. Police worked on the theory that the gang could count on only 30 minutes getaway time before the train crew raised the alarm. It would only be a matter of time, in any case, before police discovered the hideout. The gang got out while the going was good.

Philippines Claims Bill Signed By JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy signed into law Tuesday a long-delayed Philippines war claims settlement under which a Washington lobbyist who helped push it to passage will be denied the big fees he originally might have received.

The bill, authorizing payment of remaining individual claims up to $25,000 to Filipinos who suffered property loss in World War II, had been in the legislative machine for three years.

U. S. Nuclear Edge Treaty Factor

McNamara Reassures Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified Tuesday that one reason Russia agreed to a limited nuclear test ban is that America's military superiority has increased in the past four years.

McNamara said the U.S. nuclear striking force, with "tens of thousands" of warheads, is substantially larger than the Soviets.

Calling for Senate ratification of the test ban treaty signed by over 50 nations, he assured senators that nothing in the pact will shift the power balance.

"Between now and 1966," he said, "it is estimated that our ballistic missile numerical superiority will increase both absolutely and relatively."

Secrecy Lid Raised

The defense chief lifted the secrecy lid in an unusual degree in stating his case for ratification before a packed audience in the big Senate Caucus Room.

As Secretary of State Dean Rusk did Monday, he testified before the Senate Foreign Relations, Armed Services and Atomic committees.

He told them that "by limiting Soviet testing to the underground environment, where testing is more difficult and more expensive and where the U.S. has substantially more experience, we can at least retard Soviet progress and prolong the duration of our technological superiority."

The treaty would bar all nuclear testing except under ground.

McNamara repeated several points stressed by Rusk, including emphasis that the treaty involves risks. But he said "the advantages outweigh the risks," adding that the risks "are either small or under our control."

Antimissile Tests Slated

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., questioned McNamara about what he called "the great concern" expressed by Dr. Edward Teller Monday that the treaty might hamper development of an antimissile system.

Teller, a nuclear physicist often called the father of the hydrogen bomb, testified in secret before the Senate Preparedness Committee headed by Stennis.

McNamara said it is possible to carry out deployment and testing of the weapon without nuclear testing in the atmosphere because the factors now involved are not associated with the warhead.

McNamara said the administration is asking $450 million this year for such testing of the system. But whether the tests will lead to a recommendation for deployment of the system, McNamara told the senators, he could not say.

Perez Jimenez Ouster Upheld

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—A federal appeals judge, ignoring an "eleventh hour plea" that extradition meant probable death, refused Tuesday night to stay the expulsion of former Venezuelan Dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Judge Warren L. Jones' decision removed the last apparent legal obstacle blocking the touchy ex-strongman's extradition to his homeland to face charges of embezzling $13.5 million from the national treasury.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk signed the order Monday after American courts had ruled there was "probable cause" for Perez Jimenez' trial on the misappropriation charges.

In Miami, a party of Venezuelan police and government officials accompanied by a physician and nurse awaited the decision in a hotel a few miles from the Dade County jail, where the former army general has been lodged for eight months. The South Americans arrived by chartered aircraft earlier Tuesday.

To clear the legal path for handing Perez over, U.S. attorneys went before state Circuit Judge Robert Anderson in Miami and won the dismissal of a paternity suit pending against the former strongman.

Rights March Not Endorsed By AFL-CIO

New Rift Between Meany, Reuther Created By Action

UNITY HOUSE, Pa. (AP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council refused Tuesday to endorse the planned Aug. 28 civil rights march on Washington, but said in a statement it supported "completely the right of any American peacefully to protest for a redress of grievances."

The action created another split between George Meany, AFL-CIO president and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers. Reuther criticized the council's statement.

The statement also drew criticism from A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and the only Negro vice president in the AFL-CIO. He will lead the march.

Job Bias Row Recalled

Randolph and Meany were at odds a few years ago over job discrimination. At that time Meany was quoted as telling Randolph: "Who the hell appointed you the guardian of the Negroes?"

Meany told a news conference after a three-hour closed meeting of the council that he had reservations as to whether the march would help enactment of civil rights legislation by Congress.

Meany said all 20 members present, except Reuther and Randolph, felt that the council statement was "all right."

Reuther, along with an estimated 2,000 members of his union, plans to participate in the march.

"Great Moral Protest"

"I consider the Washington march a great moral protest. I believe the American labor movement should have been part of it along with church, civic and civil rights groups. This is a moral protest. I think the labor movement should be identified with that moral protest," Reuther said.

Randolph, who estimated that more than 100,000 persons will take part in the march, said the council's one-page statement is a "masterpiece of noncommitment for or against the march — evidence of a lack of recognition of existing racial and social realities."

Two Firemen Killed In Blast

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Two firemen were killed, five injured and almost a score of other persons hurt Tuesday in a propane gas explosion which destroyed an Avis-Rent-A-Truck garage in the downtown area.

The blast touched off a triple-alarm fire and shattered windows over a five block area. Authorities set up an emergency disaster headquarters at nearby Charity Hospital.

The dead were identified as Fire Lieutenant Edwin J. Hart, 65, South Euclid, and Fireman John T. McKenna, 26, Cleveland.

Safety Director John McCormick and Fire Chief William Barry said the explosion was caused by gas leaking from a 1,400-gallon tank truck brought to the garage for service. They estimated damage at $100,000.

Pact May Open Defense "Gap," Barry Declares

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Tuesday the limited nuclear test ban treaty may well be opening "a possible fatal gap" in U.S. defenses against enemy missile attack.

In a Senate speech, the GOP presidential frontrunner said that "if this treaty really means that we must abandon efforts to defend ourselves against attack by ICBM, then I would say that we have a clear challenge to the security of this nation."

"Such a challenge," he added, "flatly refutes the President's claim that no segment of our national security will be sacrificed should we approve this treaty."

Goldwater took specific note of President Kennedy's Aug. 1 news conference in which he said that the problem of developing a defense against a missile may be beyond the technical feasibility of both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The President said that the difficulty in developing an anti-missile missile involves the questions of selecting the real ICBM from among decoys, and of targeting, more than it does the problem of developing a nuclear warhead that can blow up incoming rockets.

Goldwater said the news conference statement in effect "seemingly sentenced to death" the U. S. program to build an anti-missile defense. He added that there should be "iron clad assurance that anti-missile development will not be inhibited by the treaty or by the President's personal pessimism."

His statement came as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's test ban hearings that the treaty will not hurt U. S. efforts to develop an anti-missile missile.

McNamara said that "the best present judgment" is that U.S. efforts to design an anti-missile defense "are comparable in magnitude and success with those of the Soviets."

Mrs. Kennedy Will Leave Hospital This Morning

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy flew in from Washington Tuesday night, to be greeted by the good news that his wife is well enough to leave the hospital Wednesday morning.

The chief executive brought with him from the White House a puppy as a gift for her and their children, Caroline and John Jr.

Kennedy will come to the base hospital Wednesday morning to pick up his wife just one week after she gave birth to their third child, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy. The baby died less than two days later.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy has been displaying continued progress and is in excellent condition.

The President left the hospital after spending almost an hour with his wife and drove to the family's summer home on nearby Squaw Island.

The puppy was nestled in the arms of a presidential aide.

The President and his wife will leave the hospital for Squaw Island. There the First Lady will continue her recuperation.

The Squaw Island home is a half-mile from the Kennedy compound where other members of the President's family have their homes.

The presidential family, including their two children, has been staying three since late June. The President has been commuting on weekends. It was from Squaw Island that Mrs. Kennedy was rushed by helicopter to the hospital last Wednesay, only an hour before her son was born at 12:52 p.m.

Wirtz Says Peace Efforts Have Failed

Carrier Spokesman Reports Stalemate As Strike Threatens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said Tuesday night that his latest attempts to settle the railroad labor dispute have failed. No more bargaining sessions are scheduled.

As the threat of a nationwide rail strike again loomed—this time on Aug. 29—both management and the rail unions accused each other of offering unacceptable terms.

Wirtz appealed urgently to both sides to consider changing their positions on the disputed rail work rules under which 37,000 jobs would be eliminated as unnecessary.

"Prospects of settlement of this issue by bargaining depend entirely on one side or the other making a new proposal," Wirtz said.

Called Hopeless

J. E. Wolfe, the railroads' chief negotiator, said flatly that "a negotiated agreement is hopeless."

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said Wolfe's announcement of a stalemate in the talks meant, in effect, "No settlement on other than our terms."

If Wolfe's statement is final, Gilbert said, the five train-operating rail unions have no alternative but to prepare for a nationwide rail walkout the minute the work rules are imposed.

Congress has virtually suspended consideration of President Kennedy's emergency legislation during the union - management talks with Labor Department officials. The railroads plan to enforce the work rules on Aug. 29—in a little more than two weeks—unless Congress acts first to avert a strike. Kennedy's proposal would place the dispute in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) for a two-year "interim" settlement.

Standing By

Although no further bargaining sessions were slated Tuesday, Secretary Wirtz asked both sides to stand by for a possible call.

The key stumbling block to an agreement is the issue of the jobs of 37,000 firemen the carriers want to remove from diesel locomotives.

After Tuesday's session, Wolfe told reporters the railroads had agreed to "protect those now working" and to accept the principle of weeding out jobs through attrition.

But, he added, the firemen had called for a "very severe limit on attrition" that would mean laying off only slightly more than 3 per cent of existing firemen a year.

A spokesman for the firemen's union said he considered the bargaining sessions only adjourned and not broken down, as Wolfe had declared.

Buddhist Monk Burn Suicide

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A 17-year-old novice Buddhist monk burned himself to death Tuesday in a suicide that could help spread the fire of general rebellion.

Stunned Buddhist leaders appeared to have lost control of the suicide tactic they inaugurated two months ago as a form of protest against alleged persecution by the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The secret 2 a.m. suicide by Thich Thanh Tuc was the third by fire since aged monk Quang Duc set a spectacular precedent June 11.

An 18-year-old girl tried to hack off her hand in a Saigon pagoda Monday night in another attempt.

The novice left four letters which, informed sources said, denounced the persecution which Buddhist leaders charge to the government, whose leaders are predominantly Roman Catholic.

Rights March Not Endorsed By AFL-CIO

New Rift Between Meany, Reuther Created By Action

UNITY HOUSE, Pa. (AP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council refused Tuesday to endorse the planned Aug. 28 civil rights march on Washington, but said in a statement it supported "completely the right of any American to peacefully to protest for a redress of grievances."

The action created another split between George Meany, AFL-CIO, president and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers. Reuther criticized the council's statement.

The statement also drew criticism from A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and the only Negro vice president in the AFL-CIO. He will lead the march.

Job Bias Row Recalled

Randolph and Meany were at odds a few years ago over job discrimination. At that time Meany was quoted as telling Randolph: "Who the hell appointed you the guardian of the Negroes?"

Meany told a news conference after a three-hour closed meeting of the council that he had reservations as to whether the march would help enactment of civil rights legislation by Congress.

Meany said all 20 members present, except Reuther and Randolph, felt that the council statement was "all right."

Reuther, along with an estimated 2,000 members of his union, plans to participate in the march.

"Great Moral Protest"

"I consider the Washington march a great moral protest. I believe the American labor movement should have been part of it along with church, civic and civil rights groups. This is a moral protest. I think the labor movement should be identified with that moral protest," Reuther said.

Randolph, who estimated that more than 100,000 persons will take part in the march, said the council's one-page statement is a "masterpiece of noncommitment for or against the march — evidence of a lack of recognition of existing racial and social realities."

Two Firemen Killed In Blast

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Two firemen were killed, five injured and almost a score of other persons hurt Tuesday in a propane gas explosion which destroyed an Avis-Rent-A-Truck garage in the downtown area.

The blast touched off a triple-alarm fire and shattered windows over a five block area. Authorities set up an emergency disaster headquarters at nearby Charity Hospital.

The dead were identified as Fire Lieutenant Edwin J. Hart, 65, South Euclid, and Fireman John T. McKenna, 26, Cleveland.

Safety Director John McCormick and Fire Chief William Barry said the explosion was caused by gas leaking from a 1,400-gallon tank truck brought to the garage for service. They estimated damage at $100,000.

Perez Jimenez Ouster Upheld

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—A federal appeals judge, ignoring an "eleventh hour plea" that extradition meant probable death, refused Tuesday night to stay the expulsion of former Venezuelan Dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Judge Warren L. Jones' decision removed the last apparent legal obstacle blocking the touchy ex-strongman's extradition to his homeland to face charges of embezzling $13.5 million from the national treasury.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk signed the order Monday after American courts had ruled there was "probable cause" for Perez Jimenez' trial on the misappropriation charges.

In Miami, a party of Venezuelan police and government officials accompanied by a physician and nurse awaited the decision in a hotel a few miles from the Dade County jail, where the former army general has been lodged for eight months. The South Americans arrived by chartered aircraft earlier Tuesday.

To clear the legal path for handing Perez over, U.S. attorneys went before state Circuit Judge Robert Anderson in Miami and won the dismissal of a paternity suit pending against the former strongman.

Mrs. Kennedy Will Leave Hospital This Morning

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy flew in from Washington Tuesday night, to be greeted by the good news that his wife is well enough to leave the hospital Wednesday morning.

The chief executive brought with him from the White House a puppy as a gift for her and their children, Caroline and John Jr.

Kennedy will come to the base hospital Wednesday morning to pick up his wife just one week after she gave birth to their third child, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy. The baby died less than two days later.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy has been displaying continued progress and is in excellent condition.

The President left the hospital after spending almost an hour with his wife and drove to the family's summer home on nearby Squaw Island.

The puppy was nestled in the arms of a presidential aide.

The President and his wife will leave the hospital for Squaw Island. There the First Lady will continue her recuperation.

The Squaw Island home is a half-mile from the Kennedy compound where other members of the President's family have their homes.

The presidential family, including their two children, has been staying three since late June. The President has been commuting on weekends. It was from Squaw Island that Mrs. Kennedy was rushed by helicopter to the hospital last Wednesay, only an hour before her son was born at 12:52 p.m.

Pact May Open Defense "Gap," Barry Declares

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Tuesday the limited nuclear test ban treaty may well be opening "a possible fatal gap" in U.S. defenses against enemy missile attack.

In a Senate speech, the GOP presidential frontrunner said that "if this treaty really means that we must abandon efforts to defend ourselves against attack by ICBM, then I would say that we have a clear challenge to the security of this nation."

"Such a challenge," he added, "flatly refutes the President's claim that no segment of our national security will be sacrificed should we approve this treaty."

Goldwater took specific note of President Kennedy's Aug. 1 news conference in which he said that the problem of developing a defense against a missile may be beyond the technical feasibility of both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The President said that the difficulty in developing an anti-missile missile involves the questions of selecting the real ICBM from among decoys, and of targeting, more than it does the problem of developing a nuclear warhead that can blow up incoming rockets.

Goldwater said the news conference statement in effect "seemingly sentenced to death" the U. S. program to build an anti-missile defense. He added that there should be "iron clad assurance that anti-missile development will not be inhibited by the treaty or by the President's personal pessimism."

His statement came as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's test ban hearings that the treaty will not hurt U. S. efforts to develop an anti-missile missile.

McNamara said that "the best present judgment" is that U.S. efforts to design an anti-missile defense "are comparable in magnitude and success with those of the Soviets."

Wirtz Says Peace Efforts Have Failed

Carrier Spokesman Reports Stalemate As Strike Threatens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said Tuesday night that his latest attempts to settle the railroad labor dispute have failed. No more bargaining sessions are scheduled.

As the threat of a nationwide rail strike again loomed—this time on Aug. 29—both management and the rail unions accused each other of offering unacceptable terms.

Wirtz appealed urgently to both sides to consider changing their positions on the disputed rail work rules under which 37,000 jobs would be eliminated as unnecessary.

"Prospects of settlement of this issue by bargaining depend entirely on one side or the other making a new proposal," Wirtz said.

Called Hopeless

J. E. Wolfe, the railroads' chief negotiator, said flatly that "a negotiated agreement is hopeless."

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said Wolfe's announcement of a stalemate in the talks meant, in effect, "No settlement on other than our terms."

If Wolfe's statement is final, Gilbert said, the five train-operating rail unions have no alternative but to prepare for a nationwide rail walkout the minute the work rules are imposed.

Congress has virtually suspended consideration of President Kennedy's emergency legislation during the union - management talks with Labor Department officials. The railroads plan to enforce the work rules on Aug. 29—in a little more than two weeks—unless Congress acts first to avert a strike. Kennedy's proposal would place the dispute in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) for a two-year "interim" settlement.

Standing By

Although no further bargaining sessions were slated Tuesday, Secretary Wirtz asked both sides to stand by for a possible call.

The key stumbling block to an agreement is the issue of the jobs of 37,000 firemen the carriers want to remove from diesel locomotives.

After Tuesday's session, Wolfe told reporters the railroads had agreed to "protect those now working" and to accept the principle of weeding out jobs through attrition.

But, he added, the firemen had called for a "very severe limit on attrition" that would mean laying off only slightly more than 3 per cent of existing firemen a year.

A spokesman for the firemen's union said he considered the bargaining sessions only adjourned and not broken down, as Wolfe had declared.

Buddhist Monk Burn Suicide

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A 17-year-old novice Buddhist monk burned himself to death Tuesday in a suicide that could help spread the fire of general rebellion.

Stunned Buddhist leaders appeared to have lost control of the suicide tactic they inaugurated two months ago as a form of protest against alleged persecution by the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The secret 2 a.m. suicide by Thich Thanh Tuc was the third by fire since aged monk Quang Duc set a spectacular precedent June 11.

An 18-year-old girl tried to hack off her hand in a Saigon pagoda Monday night in another attempt.

The novice left four letters which, informed sources said, denounced the persecution which Buddhist leaders charge to the government, whose leaders are predominantly Roman Catholic.

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Two bombs Tuesday damaged installations of the Colombian Petroleum Co. at Barrancabermeja in Santander del sur Province. There were no casualties.

Kefauver, Crusader Who Wanted To Be President, Buried

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Estes Kefauver, the tall Tennessee senator who shook hands from coast to coast as a presidential hopeful, was buried Tuesday a few feet from his stately family home.

Under sometimes rainy skies, a mahogany casket bearing the body of the Madisonville boy who grew up to a notable place in Congress was lowered into earth near the graves of his parents.

Sitting by quietly at the simple service were his widow, Nancy, their four children and scores of public figures headed by Vice President Lyndon Johnson and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

Kefauver was Stevenson's running mate on the Democratic ticket in the 1956 presidential election.

A light breeze crossed the rolling farm, fluttering banks of flowers sent from mourners across the nation who remembered the senator with the friendly grin and coonskin cap.

From the porch of the century-old home, two ministers read passages from the Bible and offered comforting remarks. There was no eulogy at the family's request.

Kefauver, 60, suffered a heart attack Thursday on the Senate floor where he won a name as a crusader against crime and monopolies. He died at Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital Saturday.

Rows of folding chairs lining the lawn failed to accommodate the huge crowd at the service. A state trooper estimated the crowd in town at 5,000-10,000.

As thunder rolled, the coffin was removed by an Air Force honor guard to graveside. Lightning flashed as the casket was lowered. And when the family turned from the grave, a heavy downpour began.

Kefauver was the son of Robert Cooke and Phredonia Estes Kefauver. His father was a farmer, a merchant and major and his grandfather a Baptist preacher.

As a 6-foot-3 youth, Kefauver told classmates at the University of Tennessee in 1920 he would "be President of the United States someday."

"In almost reaching that goal he became a familiar figure to millions of Americans.

The body, which lay in state at a Washington funeral home Sunday, was flown by Air Force plane to Knoxville. The 40-mile trip south to here was by hearse.

The senator's widow and their four children flew from Washington aboard a presidential jet furnished by the White House.

Democratic Gov. Frank Clement, who will name Kefauver's successor, led a large delegation of state dignitaries from Nashville. State offices closed at the hour of the funeral.

Wife Divorces Marshall Field For "Cruelty"

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A divorce was granted Tuesday to Mrs. Marshall Field Jr. from her husband, publisher of two newspapers and great grandson of a well-known 19th century Chicago merchant.

The decree was granted by Dist. Judge Grant L. Bowen about 15 minutes after Mrs. Field filed divorce in a hearing closed to the public.

A July 26 agreement was sealed containing details of the property settlement, custody of the couple's three children and terms of support or alimony.

Mrs. Field, 35, member of a pioneer family in Joliet, Ill., was accompanied by three attorneys. Field, not present, was represented by two lawyers.

The routine Nevada charge of mental cruelty was made by Mrs. Field in her complaint, which claimed "extreme mental pain, anguish and suffering."

The couple's marriage May 12, 1950, was the second for Field and the first for Mrs. Field, well-known as an amateur model and daughter of the late Frederick W. Woodruff, Joliet banker.

They have three children, Frederick Woodruff Field, 11, Katherine Woodruff Field, 9, and Barbara Woodruff Field, 6.

Field, who actually is Marshall IV, was first married June 20, 1938, to Joanne Bass, daughter of Robert P. Bass, once governor of New Hampshire.

By his first marriage, Field has a son, Marshall III (actually V), 22, and Joanne, 20.

Field, 47, is heir to the department store fortune started by his great-grandfather, the first Marshall Field.

Field is president of Field Enterprises, Inc., which publishes the Chicago Sun-Times, the Chicago Daily News and World Book Encyclopedia.

Following his discharge from the Navy after World War II, Field gave up a career in law to go to work for the old Chicago Sun, founded by his father, Marshall III, in 1941.

In 1950, he succeeded his father, who died in 1956, as publisher of the Sun-Times, On Jan. 5, 1959, Field Enterprises, Inc., acquired the Daily News and Field became publisher of that newspaper.

Fly Eradication Test Launched

ROME (AP) — University of Rome scientists launched an experiment Tuesday which they believe will wipe out all the flies in a test village south of Rome by means of a sterilizing chemical.

Deprived of the ability to reproduce, the common housefly should cease to exist by the fall in the inland hilltop village of Bassiano, population 2,000, between Rome and Naples, according to the experimenters.

The chemical, put into solid bait such as sugar, works through the reproductive apparatus of the female fly, which can yield offspring only once during its brief life-span.

Contact with the female fly makes the male fly sterile. The artificial sterilization is described as contagious, meaning that any flies coming in contact with the sterilized flies themselves become sterile.

Dillon Says Tax Cut Would Help Budget Balance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country can have a tax cut and still balance its federal budget in about four years, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon was reported to have told House tax writers Tuesday.

Dillon spent the day behind closed doors with the House Ways and Means Committee, which is considering a new Treasury proposal of tax rate cuts, averaging 15.5 per cent for most taxpayers, to complete the pending tax revision bill.

Committee sources said Dillon stuck to his earlier predictions that the tax cut will help rather than hinder a budget balance by 1967 or 1968, although the composition and timing of the proposed cut has been changed since it was first advanced in January.

Dillon, it was reported, predicted that the budget would increase by not more than $3 billion to $4 billion a year. In some fiscal quarters this rate of increase, below that of recent years, is considered a normal reflection of the growth of population and economic activity.

Even so, committee sources said, the outlook is for deficits ranging above $9 billion each for the government bookeeping year that began July 1 and the year following.

The United States has won more Nobel Prizes than has any other country.

Salary Boosts For Congress, Cabinet Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential advisory panel recommended Tuesday that the $25,000 annual salaries of Cabinet members be doubled and that pay of Congress members be raised from $22,500 to $35,000.

The group, headed by Clarence B. Randall, former Inland Steel Company board chairman, also suggested Congress raise from $35,000 to $60,000 pay for Supreme Court justices, the vice president and speaker of the House.

The 12-man panel's report stemmed from a request by President Kennedy to the Budget Bureau and the Civil Service Commission.

It said the salaries of top government appointees should be well above that of the highest paid government career employes.

The report said it is difficult, if not impossible, to find private positions comparable to high government offices.

In a survey of the top executives of 1,157 corporations, the report said, median salaries in seven categories ranged from $53,000 for life insurance companies to $91,000 for manufacturing firms.

The panel suggested that legislation on the proposed pay rates be made effective next January. The added expense to the government would not exceed $20 million a year, it said.

In addition to the pay raises, the group recommended increased fringe benefits. The allowances of the speaker and the vice president would be increased from $10,000 to $15,000.

A congressman or senator would be permitted to deduct $5,000 of his salary from his income tax. The panel said this would offset living expenses.

There also was a recommendation that Congress increase "very substantially" the number of government-paid trips allowed Congress members each year.

Presidential appointees would be reimbursed for the cost of moving to Washington, and back to their homes after their term of service ended. After they left government service, appointees would receive "separation pay" at the rate of one month's pay for each year of service but with a ceiling of three months salary.

Rights March Planners Have Money Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money and transport problems plagued Negro leaders preparing for the big Aug. 28 "march on Washington for freedom and jobs."

Although most of the estimated 100,000 to 250,000 Negroes and whites expected to come here are supposed to pay their fare—and bring box meals and jugs of water with them—"incidental" expenses are mounting.

Such items as printing costs for literature are getting large. And the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, Washington coordinator of the march, got a shock Tuesday when he received an estimate of the cost of renting a public address system.

To keep the throngs attuned to the proceedings as they gather at the Washington Monument and march to the Lincoln Memorial for the climactic exercises is going to take a lot of loudspeakers. The best bid Fauntroy has been able to get so far is $15,800.

Six Negro organizations are expected to foot much of the bill for such incidentals. They raise their money mostly by dues, special contributions and bequests, and passing the hat at rallies.

France To Continue Nuclear Testing

PARIS (UPI) — France announced Tuesday it will continue a program of nuclear test ban explosions despite the Moscow test ban accord because it wants to build up a nuclear stockpile.

The decision was announced by a government spokesman following a cabinet meeting held under the chairmanship of President Charles de Gaulle.

INFLUENCE PAYS—Knowing some influential people in Washington paid off yesterday for the Felix J. Bethancourt family of New Orleans. They met President Kennedy, chatted with him in his office, got his autograph, White House pens and a PT boat tie clasp, breakfasted in the staff room and were driven back to Capitol Hill in a White House limousine—thanks to Rep. Family Is Dazed By Unexpected Special Tour Of White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Felix J. Bethancourt family of New Orleans, La., got an extra special tour of the White House, thanks to knowing some influential people.

Bethancourt, his wife and their two children, Jan, 12, and Val, 10—an ordinary family—met President Kennedy, chatted with him in his office, got his autograph, White House pens and a PT boat tie clasp, breakfasted in the staff room and were driven to Capitol Hill in a White House limousine

Excited, elated and slightly dazed by it all, the four told of their adventure in the office of Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

"It was astounding," said Mrs. Bethancourt.

"No one will ever believe me," said Bethancourt, who works for the Veterans Administration in New Orleans.

Bethancourt said they were on an 8 a.m. White House tour Tuesday with Jimmy Deakin, an aide to Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee.

"Jimmy took us out of the tour line and into the Cabinet room," Bethancourt said.

"Pretty soon the President came in and we shook hands with him. He asked if we'd like to see his office and took us in there where we met his secretary."

Kennedy gave Val a PT boat tie clasp and gave both Jan and Val pens. He also autographed their tour books.

Deakin took them to the staff room for breakfast and later a White House limousine returned them to Capitol Hill.

Bethancourt and Hebert are cousins.

Ordinarily the special congressional early morning tours of the White House are booked weeks in advance.

One drawback about the whole thing, said Bethancourt, is that on the automobile drive up to Washington Val asked if they could see the President.

"I told him of course not, that it was completely out of the question," Bethancourt said.

"He'll never believe me again."

ICC Order Upheld In Rail Merger

DETROIT (AP)—A three-judge federal court panel Tuesday upheld an Interstate Commerce Commission order permitting the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to acquire stock control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway.

Several railroad unions had challenged the ICC order and were plaintiffs in the court case.

The court decision was handed down by Justice Clifford O'Sullivan of the Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and Judges Thomas P. Thornton and Stephen J. Roth of the Eastern Michigan Judicial District.

'Rocky' Plans To Enter N. H., Calif. Primaries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has given friends in Congress the word he plans to go all-out for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, with a determined fight in at least two primaries.

Rockefeller's tentative plans call for announcing his candidacy formally in late December and then entering New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary on March 10. The California primary in June probably would follow.

The word was relayed here in recent weeks by George Hinman, GOP national committeeman of New York and a Rockefeller political adviser.

It was, essentially, that Rockefeller is determined to make a "real fight" for the nomination. The purpose of such a message now was understood to be to assure potential Rockefeller backers that Rockefeller is a candidate and has no plans to withdraw suddenly as he did in the last presidential contest.

Wife Divorces Marshall Field For "Cruelty"

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A divorce was granted Tuesday to Mrs. Marshall Field Jr. from her husband, publisher of two newspapers and great grandson of a well-known 19th century Chicago merchant.

The decree was granted by Dist. Judge Grant L. Bowen about 15 minutes after Mrs. Field filed divorce in a hearing closed to the public.

A July 26 agreement was sealed containing details of the property settlement, custody of the couple's three children and terms of support or alimony.

Mrs. Field, 35, member of a pioneer family in Joliet, Ill., was accompanied by three attorneys. Field, not present, was represented by two lawyers.

The routine Nevada charge of mental cruelty was made by Mrs. Field in her complaint, which claimed "extreme mental pain, anguish and suffering."

The couple's marriage May 12, 1950, was the second for Field and the first for Mrs. Field, well-known as an amateur model and daughter of the late Frederick W. Woodruff, Joliet banker.

They have three children, Frederick Woodruff Field, 11, Katherine Woodruff Field, 9, and Barbara Woodruff Field, 6.

Field, who actually is Marshall IV, was first married June 20, 1938, to Joanne Bass, daughter of Robert P. Bass, once governor of New Hampshire.

By his first marriage, Field has a son, Marshall III (actually V), 22, and Joanne, 20.

Field, 47, is heir to the department store fortune started by his great-grandfather, the first Marshall Field.

Field is president of Field Enterprises, Inc., which publishes the Chicago Sun-Times, the Chicago Daily News and World Book Encyclopedia.

Following his discharge from the Navy after World War II, Field gave up a career in law to go to work for the old Chicago Sun, founded by his father, Marshall III, in 1941.

In 1950, he succeeded his father, who died in 1956, as publisher of the Sun-Times, On Jan. 5, 1959, Field Enterprises, Inc., acquired the Daily News and Field became publisher of that newspaper.

Rights March Planners Have Money Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money and transport problems plagued Negro leaders preparing for the big Aug. 28 "march on Washington for freedom and jobs."

Although most of the estimated 100,000 to 250,000 Negroes and whites expected to come here are supposed to pay their fare—and bring box meals and jugs of water with them—"incidental" expenses are mounting.

Such items as printing costs for literature are getting large. And the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, Washington coordinator of the march, got a shock Tuesday when he received an estimate of the cost of renting a public address system.

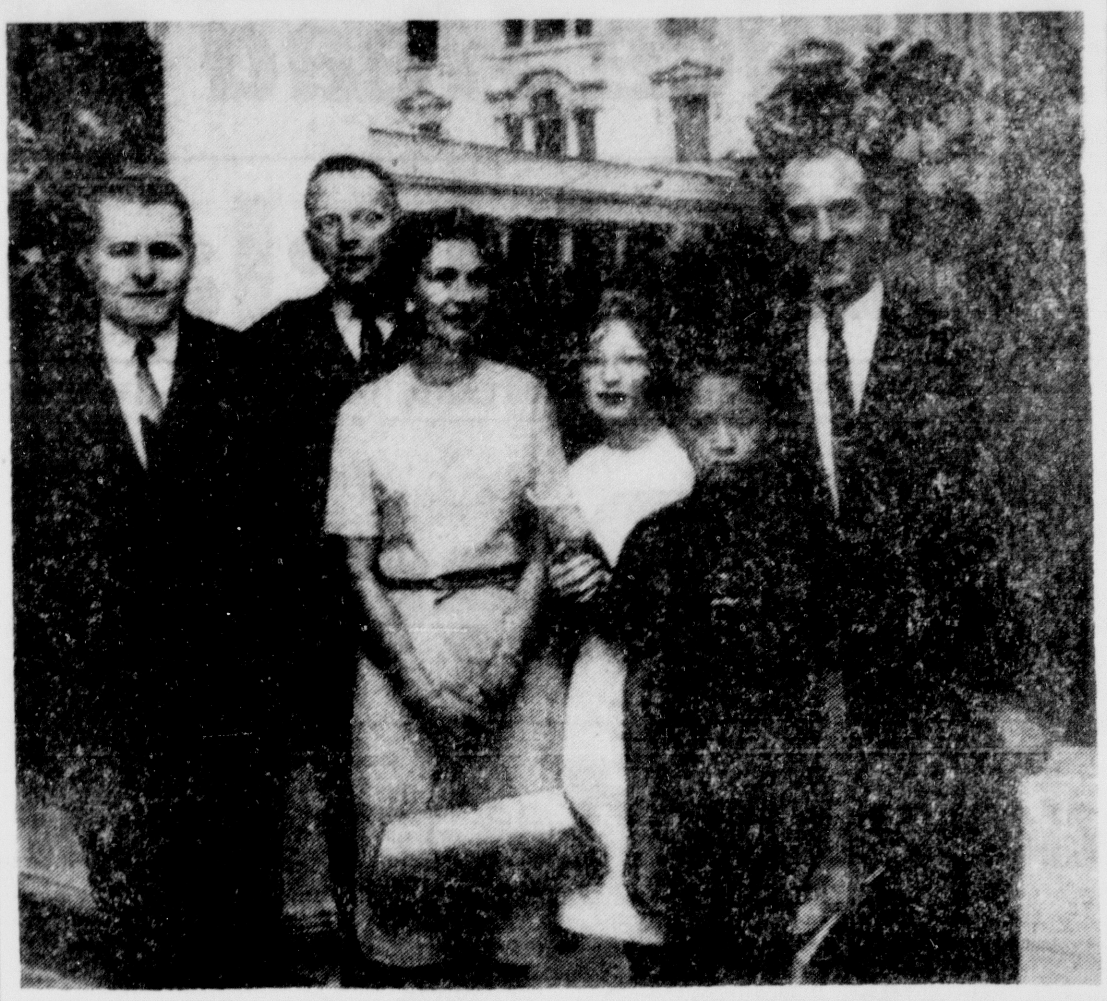
To keep the throngs attuned to the proceedings as they gather at the Washington Monument and march to the Lincoln Memorial for the climactic exercises is going to take a lot of loudspeakers. The best bid Fauntroy has been able to get so far is $15,800.

Six Negro organizations are expected to foot much of the bill for such incidentals. They raise their money mostly by dues, special contributions and bequests, and passing the hat at rallies.

France To Continue Nuclear Testing

PARIS (UPI) — France announced Tuesday it will continue a program of nuclear test ban explosions despite the Moscow test ban accord because it wants to build up a nuclear stockpile.

The decision was announced by a government spokesman following a cabinet meeting held under the chairmanship of President Charles de Gaulle.



INFLUENCE PAYS—Knowing some influential people in Washington paid off yesterday for the Felix J. Bethancourt family of New Orleans. They met President Kennedy, chatted with him in his office, got his autograph, White House pens and a PT boat tie clasp, breakfasted in the staff room and were driven back to Capitol Hill in a White House limousine—thanks to Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., and Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D. La. Posing outside the executive mansion after their VIP treatment are, from left: James Deakins, an aide to Vinson; Father Daniel F. Family Is Dazed By Unexpected Special Tour Of White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Felix J. Bethancourt family of New Orleans, La., got an extra special tour of the White House, thanks to knowing some influential people.

Bethancourt, his wife and their two children, Jan, 12, and Val, 10—an ordinary family—met President Kennedy, chatted with him in his office, got his autograph, White House pens and a PT boat tie clasp, breakfasted in the staff room and were driven to Capitol Hill in a White House limousine

Excited, elated and slightly dazed by it all, the four told of their adventure in the office of Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

"It was astounding," said Mrs. Bethancourt.

"No one will ever believe me," said Bethancourt, who works for the Veterans Administration in New Orleans.

Bethancourt said they were on an 8 a.m. White House tour Tuesday with Jimmy Deakin, an aide to Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee.

"Jimmy took us out of the tour line and into the Cabinet room," Bethancourt said.

"Pretty soon the President came in and we shook hands with him. He asked if we'd like to see his office and took us in there where we met his secretary."

Kennedy gave Val a PT boat tie clasp and gave both Jan and Val pens. He also autographed their tour books.

Deakin took them to the staff room for breakfast and later a White House limousine returned them to Capitol Hill.

Bethancourt and Hebert are cousins.

Ordinarily the special congressional early morning tours of the White House are booked weeks in advance.

One drawback about the whole thing, said Bethancourt, is that on the automobile drive up to Washington Val asked if they could see the President.

"I told him of course not, that it was completely out of the question," Bethancourt said.

"He'll never believe me again."

ICC Order Upheld In Rail Merger

DETROIT (AP)—A three-judge federal court panel Tuesday upheld an Interstate Commerce Commission order permitting the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to acquire stock control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway.

Several railroad unions had challenged the ICC order and were plaintiffs in the court case.

The court decision was handed down by Justice Clifford O'Sullivan of the Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and Judges Thomas P. Thornton and Stephen J. Roth of the Eastern Michigan Judicial District.

'Rocky' Plans To Enter N. H., Calif. Primaries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has given friends in Congress the word he plans to go all-out for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, with a determined fight in at least two primaries.

Rockefeller's tentative plans call for announcing his candidacy formally in late December and then entering New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary on March 10. The California primary in June probably would follow.

The word was relayed here in recent weeks by George Hinman, GOP national committeeman of New York and a Rockefeller political adviser.

It was, essentially, that Rockefeller is determined to make a "real fight" for the nomination. The purpose of such a message now was understood to be to assure potential Rockefeller backers that Rockefeller is a candidate and has no plans to withdraw suddenly as he did in the last presidential contest.

10 In Maryland House Occupy Uneasy Seats

Notaries Public Conflict Develops

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — There are 10 vacancies in the Maryland House of Delegates, an assistant attorney general held Tuesday, because the members unwittingly also obtained commissions as notaries public.

Although nine resigned the commissions upon learning of their mistake, Robert F. Sweeney said in an opinion, the damage already had been done.

The upshot may be that party central committees will be asked to submit the names of delegates — presumably the incumbents — for appointment by Gov. Tawes.

Or a court suit may be instituted first to substantiate existence of the vacancies.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan was expected to confer with Gov. Tawes on what to do.

There was no doubt in Sweeney's mind that the vacancies exist. He said there were five similar opinions and a decision by the Court of Appeals in the past.

The situation arises from an article in the state constitution stating "that no person shall hold, at the same time, more than one office of profit" created by the state.

Although notaries public are not paid by the state, they are commissioned and sworn in and may charge fees for attesting to documents.

The 10 delegates accepted their commissions in May after the 1963 session of the legislature. In Sweeney's opinion, they automatically forfeited their seats as delegates.

The 10, on uneasy seats, are Dels. Chester J. Ray, Angelo F. Palmisano, Charles H. Wheatley and Mrs. Margaret A. Murphy of Baltimore City, Bernard J. Mediary and William Rush of Baltimore County, William B. Dulany of Carroll, Leonard Blondes, Charles R. Brockmeyer of Anne Arundel and W. Perry Doing of Montgomery. All except Doing are Democrats.

Brockmeyer is the only one who has not resigned his notary commission. After he was convicted recently of contributing to delinquency of minor girls, his lawyer said Brockmeyer would resign from the house. He has not yet.

Sweeney's opinion was made at the request of Louis N. Phipps, former Democratic state senator from Anne Arundel and now circuit court clerk.

The rather insignificant notary public conflict might extend beyond the legislature if pursued. Among the thousands on record in the Secretary of State's office were some indicating they are held by judges and court clerks.

Bail For Yamin Set At $100,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Bail of $100,000 was set Tuesday for a former Baltimore magistrate awaiting retrial on a murder charge.

In setting the bail for Martin J. Yamin, 39, Supreme Court Justice David L. Malbin warned the Brooklyn District Attorney's office that unless there is action in the case by the end of October, he would consider reducing the bail.

The money was not posted immediately.

Yamin was charged with the slaying of Joseph Aronowitz, 40, found dead in a car in front of a Brooklyn mortuary Feb. 15, 1955. Two bullets were in the head of Aronowitz, who had been scheduled to testify against Yamin in a Baltimore robbery case.

The former magistrate interrupted his trial after a week to plead guilty of second degree murder Nov. 16, 1955, as his father urged, and he subsequently drew a 20-year to life sentence.

Last May 17, Yamin won a retrial on his claim of judicial error. He had been held without bail since then.

Three Men Die In Rt. 40 Crash

FREDERICK (AP) — Three men were killed Tuesday in a head-on collision on U.S. 40 near the Harmony road intersection.

The victims were identified as Joseph Henry Smith, 60, of Hagerstown; James Junior Hines, 40, of Rt. 5 Hagerstown, and Robert Opipze, 40, of Luthersville. Another man, Francis Hanlon Lancaster, 40, of Fallston, was admitted to the Frederick Memorial Hospital with a broken arm and chest injuries.

State Police said the Smith car was traveling west on U.S. 40 when it swerved across the centerline and struck the car driven by Lancaster.

The men were dead on arrival at the hospital.

Their deaths bring the year's traffic fatality toll to 343, compared with 331 a year ago.

Longest Voyage

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Navy sea transport Gen. R.M. Blatchford came home Tuesday from what the Navy said was the longest voyage ever made by a naval vessel of any type.

The Blatchford left the Brooklyn Naval Yard in February, 1961 and since then has steamed 174,105 nautical miles rotating United Nations troops to and from operations in the Congo.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes has named Wilson K. Barnes, Baltimore attorney, as associate judge of the city's Supreme Bench.

Barnes, 56, succeeds Joseph Allen who resigned from the bench to become city solicitor. Barnes is a native of Pocomoke City, a graduate of Western Maryland College and the University of Maryland Law school and the secretary of the State Board of Law Examiners.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting service says crop prospects in the two-state area are declining because of the drought before Aug. 10.

The service said drought conditions exist in the five counties of Southern Maryland. Soil moisture supplies are very low along the western half of the Delmar Peninsula and in most of north central Maryland. However, soil moisture supplies are nearly adequate along the Pennsylvania border.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Perry F. Prather, state health commissioner, will meet with integrationists Monday to discuss alleged discrimination in community hospitals.

However, Prather said the Health department cannot refuse a license to a hospital which meets the safety and sanitation requirements set by law, even though the hospital might discriminate.

Officials of the Civic Interest Group requested the meeting after Negroes complained of discrimination.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An acquaintance asked Walter Battle, 22, whether he wanted a drink.

He could have answered, "Yes, I'll have a shot," because that's exactly what he got — in the leg.

Battle was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital and released. Police were looking Tuesday for the 23-year-old man who wounded him.

Truck Driver Stung In Crash

CRAIGSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Albert Lee Wickham of Salem, a truck driver for Russell Transport Inc. of Roanoke, probably wishes he never had seen this Shenandoah Valley community.

Wickham was driving a tractor-trailer loaded with 28,000 pounds of bananas from New York to Charleston, W.Va. when the big vehicle skidded on Virginia 42 Tuesday. The truck hit two trees and a utility pole, then landed in the midst of 30 hives of honey bees.

The 48-year-old truck driver suffered minor head injuries in the crash, but said he was stung "a hundred times or more" by the bees.

A 17-year-old girl riding in the truck, Miss Glenna Freebaugh of Baltimore, suffered scalp lacerations and back injuries.

Wickham was charged with reckless driving and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He said he had picked up the girl as a hitchhiker.

The truck was a total loss and many of the bananas were destroyed. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Bethlehem, Shipyard Workers Reach Pact

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new contract agreement covering 15,000 employes at six East Coast shipyards has been reached between the Bethlehem Steel Co. shipbuilding division and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, union president John J. Grogan announced Tuesday.

Grogan said the agreement provides for benefits valued at 29 cents per hour in pay, insurance, vacations and other benefits.

Allows Time Off

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said Tuesday city employes will be allowed time off, if they wish, to join the Aug. 28 civil rights march in Washington.

Diminutive Fashion Plates

Little girls are the luckiest people! They live in a wonderful world of pigtails and ponytails, of tea parties and tricycles, of playclothes and party dresses. Each new season offers an exciting change of pace and, as fall approaches, a little girl shifts her emphasis from sunshine and seashells to books and bonfires.

Yes, a new season calls for a new fashion outlook, even for the very young. With age-old instinct, a little girl—and some not so little—knows just the right morning to shove the favorite toes-out sneakers under the bureau, and to dress for a new season in a real dress with real shoes and real socks. She feels more grown up, more ladylike, more demure, with just a hint of the hoyden for perfect balance.

This fall, she — and you too, mother—are going to adore the little girl clothes. They'll fit right in with her new grown-up mood; for all the styles that mother is wearing now are being shown in pint-sized editions. Even a three-year-old set can meet the new season in an A-line dress, a shift or a skimmer. The dresses are new and exciting, poised and perfectly scaled. Yes, designers have taken the best of the grown-up fashions and adapted them in cut, color and cloth to the dimensions and demands of a fashion-wise little girl.

While mothers are applauding the clean, trim lines of their daughters' new dresses, they know too that they must look ahead to the day when the dress emerges from the washing machine for the umpteenth time.

Homemaker Schedule Outlined

Goals and programs for the year have been selected for the Allegany County Homemaker clubs.

The goals are to further strengthen, develop, coordinate and extend adult education in home economics, through the cooperative extension service of the University of Maryland, provide opportunity for the homemaker in home demonstration groups to pool the judgment and experience of all progressive improvements of the home and community life, and have all homemakers club members spread information to all people of the community by sharing their experiences and what they have learned with their neighbors and friends.

Songs to be studied are "Call Jehovah Thy Salvation," "I Sing the Mighty Power of God," "Now Thank We All Our God," "All My Heart This Night Rejoices," "Be Still My Soul," "This Is My Father's World," "O Sacred Head Now Wounded," "Come Ye Faithful, Raise the Strains," "For the Beauty of the Earth," "I Would Be True," "O God Our Help In Ages Past," and "As Pants the Hart for Cooling Streams."

For the September meetings all clubs will answer roll call by naming favorite plants and have a program by the home and yard beautification chairman on plants as home accessories.

In October members will show and tell of their favorite artistic possession, and Miss Mary Wise will visit the clubs to give a program on "Good Design for a Price."

Clothing accessories will be discussed in November and the clothing chairman will lead the discussion on costumes.

In December each member will present a thought for the Christmas season.

Beginning the new year, each homemaker is to tell what she has done recently to improve her community. The community development chairman will have a program on the planning and zoning commission's role in each one's life.

The family's favorite seafood dish will be the topic of the February roll call, and the foods and nutrition chairman is to have a program on fish cookery.

In March, ways to promote the 4-H program will be discussed and 4-H demonstrations will be given.

Marking spring, household hints will be exchanged in April and the home management chairman will have a program on springtime cleanup.

Tributes to mother will be given in May and the family life chairman present a program on "Grandmothers' Role in Today's Society."

For June, roll call will be "How can I be courteous in my everyday life?" Again the family life chairman will have the program, stressing courtesy in everyday living.

South's insistence on playing a suit contract in today's hand was a questionable bit of judgment, but once having made his decision he handled himself very commendably in the play.

Perhaps North should have rebid three clubs over two hearts. If South by some chance had a preference for diamonds, slam was not out of the question. When North, instead, jumped to three no trump, it was unlikely that he had a fit for either of South's suits, and the latter might have left well enough alone.

West opened the queen of clubs which was won in dummy. South saw that his trump holding was quite shaky and he decided to single in as many hearts as possible by ruffing. At trick two, he cashed North's other high club discarding a diamond, and then he ruffed a club with the five of hearts. When West dropped the jack of clubs, declarer decided to abandon that suit.

He next played the ace and another spade, trumping in dummy. The ace of diamonds was followed by a diamond ruff, and still another spade was ruffed with dummy's last trump. Declarer's accurate timing had netted him the first eight tricks, and at the same time reduced West to his five trumps.

A diamond was led from dummy and when East covered with the king South discarded a spade. West was obliged to trump with the four of hearts and then lead away from his tenace. South won the trick with the nine of hearts. A spade was returned and West ruffed once more only to surrender the last two tricks to declarer's ace-queen of hearts. In all, West was limited to exactly two trump tricks — a very neat performance.

Reports are to be made to Dan Folk.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago I was having dinner alone when I noticed a stunning girl who was also alone. I asked her to join me. She accepted, making it clear it was the first time she'd ever done such a thing.

Here is the straight goods and I want you to tell me what you think: She is a secretary for a magazine executive but she won't tell me which magazine or where her office is. She lives with her mother who is high-strung and can't stand to hear a telephone ring. So she calls me — I can't call her. I have never been to her apartment or met her mother in the five months I've been taking her out. She can't see me on Saturday or Sunday because she is a devoted church worker and these days belong to her church. I loaned her $350 which she will repay in September when she gets her bonus.

She is beautiful, wonderful company and the most fascinating woman I've ever met. She will marry me if I'm willing to take her as she is and not ask any questions. What shall I say to the lady?—MAC

DEAR MAC: Say "good-bye." The lady is a tramp.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My entire future depends on your advice. Please help. I am 56 and my wife is 45. We have three teenagers. I am considering divorcing my wife, taking the children, and hiring a housekeeper. The reason? My wife is so tied up with her mother she is driving me crazy. Neither one can leave her home without telephoning the other to report where she is going and when she will be back.

The kids can never use the phone because my wife and her mother are talking constantly. (They live three minutes apart.) If a neighbor drops in, my wife has to call her mother and repeat every word that was said.

Both my wife and her mother are in and out of doctors' offices constantly. They imagine they have every disease known to man, although the doctor says they are both in good physical condition. The medical and drug bills are keeping me broke.

What would you advise me to do?—R.A. OF SMYRNA, GA.

DEAR R.A.: Divorce is not the answer. It would only add to your problems—emotionally and financially.

Your wife needs psychiatric help. If she will not accept it, get a second phone, plan your life around this sick sick woman and try to be both mother and dad to those kids.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If I am being petty and foolish please tell me and I'll try to change. If, however, you feel I am justified in my position tell me how to maintain it without looking like an old meanie to my less imaginative friends and relatives.

I'm a good cook and I enjoy serving unusual dishes. I have actually made up some special recipes myself. When people ask for the recipes I don't know what to say. Frankly, I hate to give them out because then my special dishes would become common.

Do you feel I should simply say, "It's a secret."? This is what I'd really like to do, but I haven't got the nerve. What is your advice? —CREATIVE COOK

DEAR CREATIVE: If you are unhappy about sharing your recipes, don't do it. However, I firmly believe it takes more than a recipe to make an excellent cook.

No two people will prepare a dish in precisely the same way. If you are as good as I think you are, your dishes will always be special because you have a touch that can't be reflected in any recipe.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOOSE HANGER: Nice philosophy, Bub, but don't hang so loose that the world passes you by. You need a STEADY job.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead: Queen of ♣

South's insistence on playing a suit contract in today's hand was a questionable bit of judgment, but once having made his decision he handled himself very commendably in the play.

Perhaps North should have rebid three clubs over two hearts. If South by some chance had a preference for diamonds, slam was not out of the question. When North, instead, jumped to three no trump, it was unlikely that he had a fit for either of South's suits, and the latter might have left well enough alone.

West opened the queen of clubs which was won in dummy. South saw that his trump holding was quite shaky and he decided to single in as many hearts as possible by ruffing. At trick two, he cashed North's other high club discarding a diamond, and then he ruffed a club with the five of hearts. When West dropped the jack of clubs, declarer decided to abandon that suit.

He next played the ace and another spade, trumping in dummy. The ace of diamonds was followed by a diamond ruff, and still another spade was ruffed with dummy's last trump. Declarer's accurate timing had netted him the first eight tricks, and at the same time reduced West to his five trumps.

A diamond was led from dummy and when East covered with the king South discarded a spade. West was obliged to trump with the four of hearts and then lead away from his tenace. South won the trick with the nine of hearts. A spade was returned and West ruffed once more only to surrender the last two tricks to declarer's ace-queen of hearts. In all, West was limited to exactly two trump tricks — a very neat performance.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago I was having dinner alone when I noticed a stunning girl who was also alone. I asked her to join me. She accepted, making it clear it was the first time she'd ever done such a thing.

Here is the straight goods and I want you to tell me what you think: She is a secretary for a magazine executive but she won't tell me which magazine or where her office is. She lives with her mother who is high-strung and can't stand to hear a telephone ring. So she calls me — I can't call her. I have never been to her apartment or met her mother in the five months I've been taking her out. She can't see me on Saturday or Sunday because she is a devoted church worker and these days belong to her church. I loaned her $350 which she will repay in September when she gets her bonus.

She is beautiful, wonderful company and the most fascinating woman I've ever met. She will marry me if I'm willing to take her as she is and not ask any questions. What shall I say to the lady?—MAC

DEAR MAC: Say "good-bye." The lady is a tramp.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My entire future depends on your advice. Please help. I am 56 and my wife is 45. We have three teenagers. I am considering divorcing my wife, taking the children, and hiring a housekeeper. The reason? My wife is so tied up with her mother she is driving me crazy. Neither one can leave her home without telephoning the other to report where she is going and when she will be back.

The kids can never use the phone because my wife and her mother are talking constantly. (They live three minutes apart.) If a neighbor drops in, my wife has to call her mother and repeat every word that was said.

Both my wife and her mother are in and out of doctors' offices constantly. They imagine they have every disease known to man, although the doctor says they are both in good physical condition. The medical and drug bills are keeping me broke.

What would you advise me to do?—R.A. OF SMYRNA, GA.

DEAR R.A.: Divorce is not the answer. It would only add to your problems—emotionally and financially.

Your wife needs psychiatric help. If she will not accept it, get a second phone, plan your life around this sick sick woman and try to be both mother and dad to those kids.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If I am being petty and foolish please tell me and I'll try to change. If, however, you feel I am justified in my position tell me how to maintain it without looking like an old meanie to my less imaginative friends and relatives.

I'm a good cook and I enjoy serving unusual dishes. I have actually made up some special recipes myself. When people ask for the recipes I don't know what to say. Frankly, I hate to give them out because then my special dishes would become common.

Do you feel I should simply say, "It's a secret."? This is what I'd really like to do, but I haven't got the nerve. What is your advice? —CREATIVE COOK

DEAR CREATIVE: If you are unhappy about sharing your recipes, don't do it. However, I firmly believe it takes more than a recipe to make an excellent cook.

No two people will prepare a dish in precisely the same way. If you are as good as I think you are, your dishes will always be special because you have a touch that can't be reflected in any recipe.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOOSE HANGER: Nice philosophy, Bub, but don't hang so loose that the world passes you by. You need a STEADY job.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Save In Style At Summer's End

Have you been nursing a secret yen to toss out all the misfits in your summer wardrobe and start all over again? Have you found yourself wishing for a windfall that would permit you to add the items you need for a truly co-ordinated collection of summer wear? Perhaps you've just become tired of yearing some of your old ummer standbys . . . and equally tired of waiting for them to wear out.

Now's your chance to satisfy those wishes and yearnings. Beauty-on-a-budget has a bonus month ahead, for women sharp enough to shop early at end-of-summer sales. Stores must move their present stocks to make room for fall merchandise . . . and the quickest way to move them is to reduce prices.

The savings are yours, for extra spending power right now. With new clothes to store away for next summer, you'll find it easier to part right now with the summer things you should have disposed of long ago.

Before your bargain-hunter's blood boils over, simmer down long enough to decide just how much of a savings-spree you can afford. Take your own private inventory of your own "present stocks." If any major items need replacement, put these at the top of your shopping list and give them first consideration on your forays into your favorite stores. Essential needs should get priority over non-essential-but-nice wants and whimsies. Whenever you catch yourself being tempted beyond your budget's boundaries, just remember that classic phrase, "All sales final!" The words may not prevent your giving in to an irresistible impulse . . . but they should help you enjoy your purchase without regrets.

Now, get going! The picking isn't easy during the last throes of summer. Like all season-closeouts, end-of-summer sales offer limited selections in sizes, styles and colors. But, with a lot of patience—and a little bit of luck—you should be able to bag plenty of bargains.

Essential needs should get priority over non-essential-but-nice wants and whimsies. Whenever you catch yourself being tempted beyond your budget's boundaries, just remember that classic phrase, "All sales final!" The words may not prevent your giving in to an irresistible impulse . . . but they should help you enjoy your purchase without regrets.

Now, get going! The picking isn't easy during the last throes of summer. Like all season-closeouts, end-of-summer sales offer limited selections in sizes, styles and colors. But, with a lot of patience—and a little bit of luck—you should be able to bag plenty of bargains.

Garrett County Man Gets Four Years For Assault

A Garrett County man received a four-year sentence to the Maryland Penitentiary in a Circuit Court trial before Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill of Oakland.

Delbert Wilt, of Bear Hill, located between Avilton and Bittinger, was found guilty on a charge of assault with intent to murder Calvin Ray Wilt and Robert S. Hay.

Testimony by the ten witnesses, five for the state and five for the defense, started yesterday morning and continued until late afternoon.

Evidence revealed that Wilt was at the home of Robert S. Hay on the late hours of May 6 and the early hours of May 7.

An argument arose, and Wilt threatened to kill Hay and Calvin Ray Wilt. The witnesses reported that he returned with a shotgun wounded Hay with 15 or 16 No. 4 shot from a blast and also hit Calvin Wilt with a few.

Hay and Calvin Wilt returned fire with other guns, and when Delbert Wilt ran out of ammunition, State Police were called.

Trooper James Powers arrested all three men. However, the grand jury of the April term of Garrett County Circuit Court called back into special session, indicted only Delbert Wilt, on charges of assault with intent to murder and common assault.

Testifying for the state were Calvin Wilt, Hay, Mrs. Robert Hay, Trooper Powers and Caroline Durst.

For the defense were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Flanigan, the defendant, a Mrs. Caruthers, and Jack Caruthers, her son.

The defense counsel, Clarence Penman, who was court-appointed, said the shooting was in self defense.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Rain Expected To Freshen Crop For Fair

"Too little and too late!"

That is how yesterday's much-needed rain is regarded with reference to the help it will lend for fruit and agricultural products to be displayed at next week's Cumberland Fair.

Harry J. Barton, general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association, said yesterday that the rain will help "freshen up" the products slated for harvesting just prior to the opening of the fair next Monday. "But it comes too late," he added, "to give the displays that rich, bountiful look so prevalent in years when rainfall is plentiful."

The Fairgo general manager pointed out, however, that displays here will be much better than most people anticipate because a number of farmers who exhibit at the local festival have irrigating systems. In visiting other fairs throughout the area, including last week's at Bedford, Barton said he noted that farm products exhibited by those who had irrigating systems were exceptionally nice looking.

At any rate, workers at the Cumberland Fairgrounds were busy erecting wooden stands 220 feet long under the grandstand for agricultural displays. And the Soil Conservation Service is hanging 50 huge pictures depicting farm scenes and other such views for background effect.

In addition, much space has been allotted for canning displays by homemakers in the big exhibition hall which is 150 feet wide and 250 feet long.

The flower and art shows, Barton said, will be held again this year in the racetrack clubhouse. An innovation in this building, he added, will be the presentation of "live" organ music daily.

Fatkin Urges Fireworks Prevention

Juvenile Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin yesterday cautioned both adults and children about the use of fireworks, cherry bombs in particular, as a result of a number of complaints that have been received lately.

A complaint came before the magistrate yesterday involving the explosion of a cherry bomb within the city.

The magistrate has warned that exploding such fireworks is in violation of state law and that those persons supplying children with fireworks likewise are violating the law.

Magistrate Fatkin said that several complaints have been received, some telling of fireworks being set off at city playgrounds.

"Exploding fireworks not only is in violation of the law," the magistrate cautioned, "but their use can result in personal injury." He pointed to the dangers of the use of fireworks on playgrounds where groups of children are endangered by their use.

He told of one recent local case of a cherry bomb explosion which resulted in an injury to a woman.

Magistrate Fatkin urged parents to exercise their authority over children in preventing them from the use of fireworks.

Man Held For Jury In Robbery

A 20-year-old Purgitsville area man was given a preliminary hearing Monday and held for action of the Hampshire County grand jury on a charge of armed robbery.

William "Ronnie" Curran, of RD, Burlington, was arrested Sunday night at a road block set up at the eastern limits of Romney by Romney Chief of Police L. L. Hutter and Town Officer Ray Hershey.

The grand jury of the July term of Hampshire County Circuit will be recalled for the second special session, authorities said, to take up this and other cases that have developed in the past few weeks.

Curran is charged with holding up his uncle, James T. Curran, also of near Purgitsville, with a shotgun and demanding the keys to his car.

The uncle gave them to him, and the young man drove off. State Police were called and the roadblock set up on Route 50 resulted in his capture.

The preliminary hearing was held before Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell in Romney.

University Hall To Get Photos

Cumberland Hall, one of the newest dormitory facilities at the University of Maryland, College Park, soon will have pictures of the Cumberland area adorning its walls.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that Tom Miller, city, a freshman at the university, and John Balch, a sophomore, suggested the plan. Petersen will make local arrangements.

The pictures will be of local industries and points of interest, Petersen said, and be 16 by 20 inches. It is planned to have at least 24.

Cumberland Hall is in its second year and one of the newest in the Cambridge Complex, composed of five dormitories and a dining hall, at the university. Balch is president of one section of the dormitory.

On "Light" Diet

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) A 5-year-old elephant was placed Tuesday on a "light" diet of 48 bananas, 15 pounds of carrots, 36 pints of milk and 40 loaves of brown bread. The animal underwent surgery Monday for a stomach ailment. Zoo officials said the normal daily diet for an adult elephant consists of about 100 pounds of food, mostly hay.

City May Get County Land Along Roadway

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday took up the proposition of giving the City of Cumberland a strip of ground along narrow Valley Road in the corporate limits.

This would be granted so that the road could be widened at the point where there is the least clearance.

Albert S. Paye, county engineer, reported to the board that he had discussed the dangerous condition with Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Nuzum informed Paye that the city was in its budget planning sessions and there is no money available at this time for the work.

Residents of the Valley Road section have appeared at several meetings of the County Commissioners to ask for their assistance in getting the street widened.

At one point along County Farm land, there is only four inches clearance between school buses or a bus and a truck.

Residents have also appeared before the Mayor and Council and have been informed that funds are not available.

Boy X-Rayed For Injuries In Game

Bruce Broadwater, 12-year-old LaVale boy, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Monday for observation of an injury sustained while playing a game at a South Branch cabin.

Undergoing X-rays, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Broadwater, Gramlich Road.

The boy was attending a father-son Boy Scout program sponsored by Troop 18 of Park Place Methodist Church. He is a member of Troop 10, sponsored by LaVale Methodist Church.

Daylight Saving Time In Effect Until October 27

Allegany County will have daylight saving time until Sunday, October 27, according to a resolution passed yesterday by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Allegany County has daylight saving time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in September.

However, several years ago, the county's delegation to the General Assembly had a bill passed that would allow the County Commissioners to extend "fast time" for one month through the passage of a resolution.

This is to keep the county in conformity with eastern metropolitan sections, all of which have extended Daylight Saving Time.

The last Sunday in September will also begin a 30-day confusion period as some adjacent counties in the tri-state area go back to "slow time" on that day.

Vermont was the first state to be admitted to the Union after the original 13 colonies.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that Tom Miller, city, a freshman at the university, and John Balch, a sophomore, suggested the plan. Petersen will make local arrangements.

The pictures will be of local industries and points of interest, Petersen said, and be 16 by 20 inches. It is planned to have at least 24.

Cumberland Hall is in its second year and one of the newest in the Cambridge Complex, composed of five dormitories and a dining hall, at the university. Balch is president of one section of the dormitory.

On "Light" Diet

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) A 5-year-old elephant was placed Tuesday on a "light" diet of 48 bananas, 15 pounds of carrots, 36 pints of milk and 40 loaves of brown bread. The animal underwent surgery Monday for a stomach ailment. Zoo officials said the normal daily diet for an adult elephant consists of about 100 pounds of food, mostly hay.

City May Get County Land Along Roadway

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday took up the proposition of giving the City of Cumberland a strip of ground along narrow Valley Road in the corporate limits.

This would be granted so that the road could be widened at the point where there is the least clearance.

Albert S. Paye, county engineer, reported to the board that he had discussed the dangerous condition with Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Nuzum informed Paye that the city was in its budget planning sessions and there is no money available at this time for the work.

Residents of the Valley Road section have appeared at several meetings of the County Commissioners to ask for their assistance in getting the street widened.

At one point along County Farm land, there is only four inches clearance between school buses or a bus and a truck.

Residents have also appeared before the Mayor and Council and have been informed that funds are not available.

Boy X-Rayed For Injuries In Game

Bruce Broadwater, 12-year-old LaVale boy, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Monday for observation of an injury sustained while playing a game at a South Branch cabin.

Undergoing X-rays, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Broadwater, Gramlich Road.

The boy was attending a father-son Boy Scout program sponsored by Troop 18 of Park Place Methodist Church. He is a member of Troop 10, sponsored by LaVale Methodist Church.

Freezing temperature of salt water is four degrees lower than that of fresh water.

Daylight Saving Time In Effect Until October 27

Allegany County will have daylight saving time until Sunday, October 27, according to a resolution passed yesterday by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Allegany County has daylight saving time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in September.

However, several years ago, the county's delegation to the General Assembly had a bill passed that would allow the County Commissioners to extend "fast time" for one month through the passage of a resolution.

This is to keep the county in conformity with eastern metropolitan sections, all of which have extended Daylight Saving Time.

The last Sunday in September will also begin a 30-day confusion period as some adjacent counties in the tri-state area go back to "slow time" on that day.

Vermont was the first state to be admitted to the Union after the original 13 colonies.

Disabled Plane Lands On Road Near Harman

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI) — A St. Albans man apparently escaped serious injury near here Tuesday night when he was forced to land his small plane on U. S. Rt. 33 near Harman.

Elkins State Police said Carl J. Bambas, about 30, was taken to a hospital with apparently only facial lacerations from the forced landing which ended when the plane flipped on its side.

Police said Bambas, an employe of the development and research department of Union Carbide in South Charleston, ran low on fuel.

The Piper Cub came down at the edge of town and part of the wing caught buy wires on a utility pole and flipped the plane over, authorities said. The planes wing was torn off and authorities said the plane was demolished.

Traffic was tied up for about an hour.

County Road Projects Are Requested

Harry T. Skelly, Allegany County roads superintendent, has been asked by the Board of County Commissioners to investigate the request of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Powell that a ditch be placed in front of their property on Pack Horse Road in Oldtown.

The couple thanked the commissioners for oiling the road in front of their home, thus alleviating a dust condition.

The grading of Buchanan Avenue in Bowling Green and snow removal during the winter is being sought by Charles R. Welling of McMullen Highway. Mr. Skelly has been requested by the commissioners to check into the matter.

Skelly reported to the commissioners that a request from Franklin H. Young for grading on an access road in the Pinto area was performed earlier this month after a request had been received from Mrs. Mary Devine.

Wayne C. Drew has been appointed for another four months as a laborer in the Roads Department on a temporary basis or until an eligibility list is made available.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 294 "The most brilliant daredevil cruise of the war," was the judgment passed by one naval historian, Richard S. West, on the accomplishment of Charles W. (Savez) Read between April and July 1863.

Others have likened "Savez" to Hornblower, hero of a half dozen immensely popular C. S. Forester novels. "Savez" got his nickname at U. S. Naval Academy. In four years as a midshipman the Mississippian mastered only one word of French. This he habitually worked into any conversation.

Read distinguished himself otherwise at Annapolis with his ability to get by with a minimum of "hitting the books." That he was graduated was due to instructors' perceptiveness that "Savez" had the quick wit, originality, dash and courage for an effective leader of men.

The appraisal was confirmed quickly on the decks of warships. Graduated in 1860 and assigned to USS Powhatan, Read resigned in 1861 to serve the Confederacy. He won commendations aboard the raiders McRae and Florida before being given, at 22, an independent command.

That was the Clarence, a captured Union brig, into which Read took 21 volunteers capable of using a boat howitzer and small arms effectively as well as managing sails adroitly during raids on Union commerce in West Indian waters.

The Clarence was slow, and as soon as Read took a larger, faster vessel, the Tacony, he moved aboard it and burned the Clarence. He sank or sent into Southern ports ship after ship, while squadrons of Union warships were trying to catch him.

Read had switched to another capture, the Archer, and was without shot for the howitzer when he daringly sailed into Portland, Me., harbor to seize the U. S. revenue cutter Caleb Cushing. That resulted in his capture. The Cushing, too, was short of ammunition.

"Savez" Read is a lively subject in the new book, "Nine Men in Gray," by Charles L. Dufour (pub. by Doubleday).

Fire Hydrants Included In Line Project

The completion of a project to provide fire protection and an improved water supply to the Auburn, Summit and Hudson avenue section was announced yesterday by Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Water Department crews headed by water superintendent Herbert B. Stallings completed the laying of some 1,600 feet of six-inch cast iron pipe last Friday.

Included was the installation of four fire hydrants to give fire protection to the area for the first time.

The new line was chlorinated over the weekend and crews began tapping in service lines Monday.

An existing, and inadequate, two-inch line serving the area will be taken out of service as soon as all customers are connected to the new line.

The new line will serve a number of homes in the area and is expected to encourage further construction.

In Hollywood...

(Editors Note: Today's Hollywood guest columnist, Ernest Borgnine, says his friends warned him against doing comedy.)

By ERNEST BORGNINE

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — You've never seen a more horrified bunch of people than those I bumped into the day I signed to do a regular TV series.

Several acquaintances dropped by the house to say, "Ernie, "Ernie, you'll hate it. The pressure's tremendous."

Some even called in the middle of the night to tell me I was making a big mistake. When your best friends phone you in bed, you've got to sit up and take notice.

But I knew something they didn't. A thing I'd done called "Seven Against the Sea" was to be turned into a comedy series called "McHale's Navy." Would I be interested in sticking with it?

"Let 'er rip. I'll do it," I answered.

I don't think I'll ever forget one particular night on Broadway back in 1950 when I went out on stage before a capacity crowd, and would you believe it, I went absolutely blank in front of all those nice people.

I was teamed up with Joe E. Brown in "Harvey" at the 48th Street Theatre and, as I recall, the script called for me to give a description of the pooka, or rabbit. For some strange reason, I couldn't for the life of me come up with my first line.

So I began to laugh. What else could I do? But you know, when I let that first nervous chuckle get away from me, a strange thing happened. The audience smiled, and suddenly they were laughing, too. I know they went away happy. I certainly did.

Had this happened to me when I was a kid, I would have run off that stage and hid for years.

I admit it. I was shy. I was so afraid of showing my face in public that I remember refusing to get out of the family car to ask someone for the correct time in New Haven's Union Station. In high school, I wasn't Saturday's hero, or Sunday's either.

In 1935 I joined the Navy, where I found out that there were a lot of guys like me in this world. I learned that if you went up to people, said "Hi" and shared a good laugh with them, chances were you'd get along right away.

Someone once said happiness is a warm smile. They may not be completely right but at least it's good for starters.

When I saw what miracles a little laughter brought me in the Navy and again on Broadway, I had no misgivings whatsoever when Revue approached me with a comedy.

Frankly, we have a ball on "McHale's Navy." We mess around at rehearsal, 'cause I'll tell you, if we don't laugh and enjoy ourselves no one else will the night of the show.

My mother once said, "Ernie, a real day's work is one where someone's just a little happier on your account."

If I can bring a little fun into someone's life, then I say, any series is worth doing.

The Board of Health of the City of Cumberland will meet Friday at 2 p.m. in City Hall.

Business will include a report from the board's inspection team on several properties ordered razed during the July meeting of the board.

Reports will also be given on inspections made as a result of complaints received during recent weeks.

Copies of the new "Order To Raze" placards will be presented to the board. The placard declares the building is hazard to health and safety and must be demolished during a stated period.

The other placard used by the board is a "Vacate Or Repair" notice and sets the time limit for placing the building in satisfactory condition.

Club To Host Team

The Cumberland Kiwanis Club at its weekly meeting tomorrow at noon at Central YMCA will be host to its team in the Hot Stove League and the team's manager, Bert Lawler.

Fire Hydrants Included In Line Project

The completion of a project to provide fire protection and an improved water supply to the Auburn, Summit and Hudson avenue section was announced yesterday by Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Water Department crews headed by water superintendent Herbert B. Stallings completed the laying of some 1,600 feet of six-inch cast iron pipe last Friday.

Included was the installation of four fire hydrants to give fire protection to the area for the first time.

The new line was chlorinated over the weekend and crews began tapping in service lines Monday.

An existing, and inadequate, two-inch line serving the area will be taken out of service as soon as all customers are connected to the new line.

The new line will serve a number of homes in the area and is expected to encourage further construction.

In Hollywood...

(Editors Note: Today's Hollywood guest columnist, Ernest Borgnine, says his friends warned him against doing comedy.)

By ERNEST BORGNINE

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — You've never seen a more horrified bunch of people than those I bumped into the day I signed to do a regular TV series.

Several acquaintances dropped by the house to say, "Ernie, "Ernie, you'll hate it. The pressure's tremendous."

Some even called in the middle of the night to tell me I was making a big mistake. When your best friends phone you in bed, you've got to sit up and take notice.

But I knew something they didn't. A thing I'd done called "Seven Against the Sea" was to be turned into a comedy series called "McHale's Navy." Would I be interested in sticking with it?

"Let 'er rip. I'll do it," I answered.

I don't think I'll ever forget one particular night on Broadway back in 1950 when I went out on stage before a capacity crowd, and would you believe it, I went absolutely blank in front of all those nice people.

I was teamed up with Joe E. Brown in "Harvey" at the 48th Street Theatre and, as I recall, the script called for me to give a description of the pooka, or rabbit. For some strange reason, I couldn't for the life of me come up with my first line.

So I began to laugh. What else could I do? But you know, when I let that first nervous chuckle get away from me, a strange thing happened. The audience smiled, and suddenly they were laughing, too. I know they went away happy. I certainly did.

Had this happened to me when I was a kid, I would have run off that stage and hid for years.

I admit it. I was shy. I was so afraid of showing my face in public that I remember refusing to get out of the family car to ask someone for the correct time in New Haven's Union Station. In high school, I wasn't Saturday's hero, or Sunday's either.

In 1935 I joined the Navy, where I found out that there were a lot of guys like me in this world. I learned that if you went up to people, said "Hi" and shared a good laugh with them, chances were you'd get along right away.

Someone once said happiness is a warm smile. They may not be completely right but at least it's good for starters.

When I saw what miracles a little laughter brought me in the Navy and again on Broadway, I had no misgivings whatsoever when Revue approached me with a comedy.

Frankly, we have a ball on "McHale's Navy." We mess around at rehearsal, 'cause I'll tell you, if we don't laugh and enjoy ourselves no one else will the night of the show.

My mother once said, "Ernie, a real day's work is one where someone's just a little happier on your account."

If I can bring a little fun into someone's life, then I say, any series is worth doing.

Central County Office Building Studied

The Allegany County Planning and Zoning Commission yesterday was asked by the County Commissioners to complete a study on the needs of various county departments as far as a central office building would be concerned.

Louis V. Shinnamon, board president, made the request to Lee Renaud, director of the planning board.

This feasibility report must be ready by October for presentation to the grand jury of that term of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Renaud was instructed to determine the needs of the Allegany County Welfare Department, and those county agencies now housed in the County Building, Union Street, along with a new jail.

A new jail has been recommended by several grand juries. The past Board of County Commissioners had a central office building in the planning stage.

Renaud was instructed to find what type of building would be needed, and what the parking requirements would be.

The Allegany County Health Department, it was pointed out, has over 30 vehicles in use. The survey was also to find out the plans of the major county departments as for future expansion.

Robert L. Ebert, county commissioner, commented that Renaud should avoid "window dressing, and stick to brass tacks." in his report.

Shinnamon said that maintenance costs at the County Building on Union Street, the Welfare Department in the old West Side School, and at the jail are "tremendous."

The county should have one "solid building," he said, for all its departments.

Renaud was informed that Anne Arundel, Carroll and Wicomico counties have just completed new central county office buildings and that he should get in touch with them for data.

Ebert said that Washington County built a new one two years ago, and already has outgrown it.

Renaud was also instructed to consider the city's urban renewal plan for downtown Cumberland.

Boy Scout Office Said Vandalized

Extensive vandalism at the office of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, 417 North Mechanic Street, and a nearby automobile lot are being investigated by the City Police Detective Bureau.

Capt. James E. Van said yesterday that Miles Thompson Jr., owner of both sites, told of a series of vandalism acts in the Boy Scout offices.

Thompson related that over a period of time the interior of the building has been extensively damaged. Toilets and sinks have been plugged up, he said, and the first floor flooded.

Surprise

MELUN, France (UPI)—Emile Mazebrand decided to spend a few days at his summer place here. When he arrived, he found only the foundation of the house. Vandals had dismantled it.

Richard Grabenstein, Frank Simpson, Glenn Kimberlin, James F. O'Rourke, John R. Stevens, Leo E. P. Law, Raymond L. O'Neal, Sylvester H. Martin, Jerome D. Laffey, James Quinn Sr. and John Lindner.

John Chapman, Raymond Beckner, John J. Rorick, T. Leo Powers, James E. Kenny Jr., Andrew J. Saliga, Wallace D. Rigsby, John Stevens, John R. Uhl, James Stitcher, Frank Pendergast and William E. Kelly.

Coyle said a speaker for the affair will be announced at a later date. The affair will begin with a cocktail hour, followed by a dinner and dance.

Time For Showdown In Chicken War

Washington is threatening to get rough in its moves to keep European markets open to U. S. poultry exports. It's high time.

The administration is considering steps to increase tariffs on a broad range of products imported from the Common Market nations. There have been warnings such retaliation would be forthcoming unless the Common Market reduced its recently increased tariffs against American poultry.

But to date the administration has been chicken. It is time to stop threatening and start acting. The Common Market's tariff action, if not rescinded, will cost U. S. poultrymen $46 million annually.

Imports against which Washington may move to retaliate include such items as wines, brandies, trucks, buses and photographic film and paper. While the intent is to decrease American purchases of these products, thus applying an economic pinch to Western Europe, the action will have the side effect of increasing their cost to those Americans who will still buy them.

But it is obvious that it will require a strong demonstration that Washington actually will retaliate, instead of merely threatening, to bring the Europeans around.

This poultry export dispute has dragged on long enough. It is time for a showdown.

These Days

Where Is Our Trading Instinct

The United States has Khrushchev over a barrel. The only drawback to the situation at this exceedingly propitious moment in history is that we have a positive genius for failing to exact anything worthwhile when we make a trade.

How do we know that Khrushchev is in trouble? We get signals, sometimes obliquely relayed, from all over the place. Khrushchev is "taking it" as he has never taken it before. Mao Tse-tung, even though he is in a position of exposed economic weakness, is utterly careless when it comes to flouting the Kremlin. The East Europeans lack Mao's vast temerity, but in their own sly way they are managing to tell Moscow what they think. The Rumanians, hearing that the most backward new nations in Africa are demanding complete "equality," let their Soviet masters know that they are tired of giving up more than they are getting when the terms of trade between the satellites and the Russian economy are set. From Czechoslovakia the news comes that the Supreme Court is "juridically" pardoning Communists who were hanged in 1952 for the great crime of "trying to tie Czechoslovakia's economy to the West."

All of these items go to paint a picture: Khrushchev must appease the peoples of Eastern Europe if he is to brazen it out with Mao Tse-tung's new "Fifth International" in Asia.

So what does Washington do to capitalize on Khrushchev's troubles? It lets slip the information that Marshall Plan-type funds might still be available to any nation "west of Asia." And it releases a story that the U.S. is preparing to resume full diplomatic relations with Hungary. This sort of thing is tantamount to announcing at an auction just how high you are prepared to go even before your competitors have entered a single bid.

True enough, the story about resuming relations with Hungary contains a cautionary word that the move is contingent on a "positive" sign that the Kadar government wants better relations. And the name of Cardinal Mindszenty, who has been living in political asylum in the U.S. Legation in Budapest, is mentioned. But "freedom" for the Cardinal to go into exile is hardly enough if that is all that is to be proposed for a trade.

The truth is that Cardinal Mindszenty would regard it as a great defeat if he were forced, by Vatican pressure, to accept exile in Rome as a "gift" from the Kadar government. Such a defeat is not in the works, for neither the present Pope nor his predecessor has considered putting any compulsion on the Cardinal, who is still Primate of Hungary, to quit Budapest under any terms other than his own. The Vatican may have hopes for the "opening to the East," but it is apparently not even asking lesser church figures than Cardinal Mindszenty to make unpalatable concessions to the Kadar government as the price of a "relaxation of tensions."

To make a case for his own "leniency," Kadar released six Roman Catholic bishops from internment some time ago. But three of these bishops, Peteri, Badalik, and Szabo, have elected to take the same stand that Cardinal Mindszenty has taken. They were willing to accept release provided they could either return to their old dioceses or take up residence in Budapest. When these alternatives were denied to them, they freely chose to return to their internment quarters in the village of Hejcze.

Before Washington makes any deal with Kadar involving the resumption of diplomatic relations, let the proper conditions for such resumption be stated firmly. Condition Number One would be freedom for Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty to return to the seat of his diocese in Esztergom, there to take up his life from where he left off before 1956, when the Hungarian revolution was so brutally suppressed. Condition Number Two would be complete freedom for Bishops Peteri, Badalik, and Szabo to resume their ecclesiastic duties. Condition Number Three would be to let the church, not the secretary of the Hungarian Communist Party, pass on the qualifications of candidates for seminary study.

Beyond all this, there should be no new diplomatic dealings with the Kadar regime until there has been full amnesty for all the participants in the 1956 uprising. If we are going to let Khrushchev wriggle off the hook in his present extremity, let us, for Heaven's sake, get something out of it. We should be tired of bowing to Moscow thrice daily, and saying, "Thank you, Khrush, for giving us nothing."

Kefauver Stuck To His Convictions, Never Bowed To The Party Bosses

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — If President Kennedy should choose to expand his book, "Profiles in Courage," I suggest he write about the only man who ever bested him in politics, who took the Vice Presidential nomination away from him in 1956: the late Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

This Lincoln of a man, homespun, ungainly, often stood alone in the United States Senate. But he stood tall.

Consider these flashbacks:

FLASHBACK, 1956 — Kefauver dug deep into his own pocket, mortgaging his home and hiring out as a lecturer, to pay off old campaign bills. Yet as a Presidential candidate in 1956, despite his campaign poverty, he refused a $10,000 contribution with strings attached.

All he had to do was condemn, in a public speech, a United Nations pronouncement against Israel. This would be worth $10,000 to his destitute campaign, he was told. But Kefauver, though pro-Israel, refused to bargain for his contributions.

FLASHBACK, 1954 — The late Senator Joe McCarthy threatened to attack Kefauver in Tennessee, painting him as a political pink, if Kefauver accepted an invitation to speak against McCarthy in Wisconsin.

Estes took up the warning with his staff, listened silently as each one begged him not to pick a fight with McCarthy on the eve of the Tennessee elections. He thanked them for their advice, then quietly announced his decision: "McCarthy is bad for the country. I reckon I'll have to say so."

Minority Of One

FLASHBACK, 1954 — Stung by charges they were soft on Communism, Democratic Senators introduced a bill to outlaw the Communist Party and dared the Republicans to vote for it. This would have subjected people to prosecution because of their political beliefs.

But the Republicans accepted the challenge and lined up unanimously with the Democrats for the bill. Only Kefauver, refusing to play politics, stood against it.

His anguished political advisers warned that his stand would be misinterpreted back home, that he would be called a Red.

"The least you can do," begged a friend, phoning from Tennessee, "is duck out on the vote."

But the final rollcall was 81 to 1; Kefauver was the lone dissenter.

(Later, the bill was pigeonholed after FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover joined Kefauver in warning that it not only would be unconstitutional but would drive the Communists underground.)

FLASHBACK, 1952—In the Presidential race, Kefauver bucked the party bosses, beat all comers in the primaries, and entered the Democratic convention with the most pledged delegates. Still, he needed more support to win the nomination.

Texas Governor Allen Shivers, boss of the big Texas delegation, chose this crucial moment to pay a secret call on Kefauver. Shivers wanted to know how the Senator felt about turning the tidelands over to the states, so the big oil companies could drill for oil.

No Deal

Would Kefauver agree to let Congress decide the issue and not use the veto if he were elected President? No, said Kefauver. Would Kefauver agree to turn offshore oil over to the states within a three-mile limit? No, Kefauver said again.

Thus Texas slipped irretrievably from his grasp. And he lost the nomination on the third ballot after leading the first two.

FLASHBACK, 1950 — Digging into organized crime, Kefauver turned over a compost pile of gangland - political connections. Deep in the pile was a $2,500 contribution that crime czar Frank Costello had given to the Democratic National Committee in 1947.

"Is this to be brought out at the the public hearings?" demanded Democratic leaders.

"It is," said the Senator. And it was.

FLASHBACK, 1949 — Though a Southerner, Kefauver managed to stir up the mighty wrath of the South by supporting civil rights legislation. When a resolution was offered to curb Senate filibusters, Kefauver at once announced support for it.

Thus the Senate was treated to the unusual spectacle of a Senator speaking with Southern accent against the filibuster.

FLASHBACK, 1920 — Kefauver came out of the Tennessee hills to the University of Tennessee, a straw suitcase in one hand, a cap perched atop his head. Tightly drawn against his huge bulk was an ill-fitting suit, which seemed red in one light, green in another. Across his chest in a neat row were all the ribbons Estes had accumulated for perfect attendance at Sunday School.

Clothes Disappear

He was greeted by a cousin, Thomas Walker, who dutifully brought Kefauver into his fraternity. That alternating red-and-green, mail-order suit offended the eyes of Estes' fraternity brothers. (Not to mention his yellow shoes, his shrunken cap, his array of Sunday school pins.)

Solemnly, they conspired to swipe Kefauver's colorful clothes and force him to buy a new wardrobe. Thus began the mystery of the missing duds, which was to puzzle Estes throughout his freshman year.

He would return from class to find a pair of orange socks gone. A week later his shoes disappeared. Then his cap. And one night, while he slept, the miracle suit of two colors vanished into the night.

From this unlikely beginning, Estes Kefauver went on to become editor of the college newspaper, president of the junior class, president of the All-Students Club, president of the Southern Federation of College Students, and a football star who earned the affectionate nickname, "Old Ironsides."

He continued on to Yale and academic glory. He became a corporation lawyer, a Congressman, a Senator and a Presidential candidate.

But he never lost touch with the Tennessee hills, with the everyday people who make up the backbone of America.

They are the ones now who will miss him the most.

A Treaty At The Cost Of Human Freedom

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Again the cause of human freedom in the world has suffered a defeat. The West German government, under pressure from the United States government, has been required, in effect, to sign a treaty it doesn't want to sign — a treaty that gives a form of diplomatic recognition to the puppet regime established by the Soviets in East Germany. This postpones still further the day when the people of Germany can be reunited and set up a single republic of their own.

There were other ways to prevent West Germany from ever engaging by itself in nuclear testing in the air or in outer space or underwater as provided in the new treaty between the East and West signed recently in Moscow. Iron-clad pledges against testing could have been given by the West German government in a separate agreement or treaty made only with Great Britain and the United States. This would have avoided any embarrassment for the West German government, which now is placed in the humiliating position of signing a treaty with Moscow on a parity with the Soviet satellite in East Germany.

So far as the status of nuclear testing is concerned, it would not have been affected in the least if West Germany had been permitted to deal only with her partners — Great Britain and the United States. But as matters stand now, the peoples of both East and West Germany have suffered a diminution of hope for refunification.

The United States, as a champion of human freedom, could have found an alternative way to accomplish its purpose — namely, to get signed a universal pledge of her own against certain kinds of nuclear testing. As it is, an opportunity to proclaim to the world the interest of the American people in seeing their peoples of the two Germanys given a chance to exercise their right of "self-determination" was sacrificed.

These are days when much is being said about the importance of "civil rights" to human beings everywhere. The United States has given lip service to this ideal in recent years, but almost every opportunity to advance such ideals internationally in a practical way has been passed up by a kind of cringing diplomacy. For, every time it is suggested that the United States government through the Department of State should, for instance, stand up for principles of self-determination, the argument is made, at least where Russia is concerned, that the West must not do anything to displease Moscow because this "might lead to war."

The cry "Do you want war?" is used to answer every plea for the United States to demand that human rights be respected by the Communist dictatorship. The Soviet government, moreover, has put the United States in a humiliating position in Cuba. More than 15,000 Soviet troops today have control of the Cuban government. The Cuban people have been deprived of their right of self-determination, but the only answer given hereabouts is in the form of a question: "Do you want war?"

Oddly enough, measures short of war are used by the United States government to discipline smaller nations which are too weak to strike back. Thus, the Washington government is leading the fight to shut off arms to and punish the Republic of South Africa because it maintains racial segregation. The real purpose, of course, is to curry favor with some African nations and to win Negro votes at home. Yet no stringent measures are taken to persuade members of the United Nations to embargo arms and discontinue trade relations with the Soviets because of the physical segregation established, for instance, by the Moscow government in East Germany.

Thus, the "Berlin Wall" now is two years old. Twenty-eight miles of concrete, steel girders and barbed wire divide the people of the single city of Berlin into two sectors. More than 11,000 Soviet troops guard the border. Ten thousand citizens of West Berlin who had gardens or houses in East Berlin have lost their property. Gerd Wilcke in a dispatch from Bonn, Germany, to the New York Times says:

"Nobody in the West knows how many East Germans have tried to climb the concrete slabs to reach the West. But several dozen who did try have died, killed while attempting to flee over the wall or through the mine fields and barbed-wire barriers of the 830-mile border dividing Germany. About 16,500 men, women and children have made it, among them enough military and police guards to provide 13 companies of troops."

This shocking situation is being ignored by the Western Allies. Instead, the Secretary of State of the United States is pictured in shirtsleeves on the front pages of the newspapers as playing table games at a seaside resort with Premier Khrushchev.

Everything is being done through the current propaganda moves on both sides of the Iron Curtain to give the impression that the United States is willing to let bygones be bygones and that the Soviet conquest of Eastern Europe is accepted as permanent.

Today's defeatism among Western governments amounts to a virtual abandonment of the cause of human freedom in Eastern Europe and is attributable to a supine diplomacy which is really the equivalent of the policies of "peace at any price" that brought on World War II.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

ROCKEFELLER ACTIVITY — New York's Gov. Rockefeller is acting like the desperate man he obviously is in his attempt to recapture the position of prominence he once held in the GOP president sweepstakes.

Rockefeller is by far the busiest of the potential Republican presidential nominees. He is doing so many things, taking so many stands, issuing so many statements that his views are almost daily topics of discussion in GOP political leadership circles.

In particular, his attack on the right wing of the Republican Party is a long gamble to regain support for his own presidential aspirations. His current startegy is a far cry from what it was only a few short months ago when he operated in the belief that he had the support of liberal and middle-of-the-road Republican voters and sought to demonstrate that he also should be acceptable to the conservatives of his party.

Rockefeller's change in plans is no accident, however. Close observers of the political scene are convinced that he is seeking to re-establish a favorable image in the eyes of the voters, not the party leaders. This is so because his remaining hope is to win big in some of the early state presidential primaries next year.

A demonstration that he can still draw a heavy popular vote is Rockefeller's only chance of swinging the 1964 GOP presidential convention away from its leaders' present conviction that he has killed himself politically by his divorce and remarriage.

Of Pesticides, Disinfectants, And Smoking

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

A two-year study by the Food and Drug Administration again demonstrates that foods readily available in supermarkets contain ample quantities of vitamins and are not poisoned with pesticides. They selected items consumed by the biggest eater in the nation—the 19-year-old boy who tucks away 60 pounds of groceries a week.

According to the New York State Journal of Medicine, the study was conducted to determine the amount of pesticide residue and vitamin content of a growing boy's weekly allotment of food. Chemical tests were made for organic phosphate type insectides and for 20 different chlorinated hydrocarbons, including DDT. The results: Either no residues or only traces of some. The vitamin content was up to par.

Many swimming pools contain so much disinfectant, the swimmers' eyes smart and burn. Experiments were conducted recently in three pools at Stanford University, where iodine was used instead of chlorine. Thirty young swimmers were selected and the result of the study showed they preferred iodine or had no preference; three discontinued the use of protective goggles. Others who had experienced eye irritation with chlorine said they had none when iodine was used.

The tremendous increase in cigaret smoking by the younger set means that many will become heavy smokers by the time they are 20 years old. This is significant because the incidence of lung cancer, emphysema, and heart disease is greater among those who smoke more than two packages a day.

Dr. Samuel M. Wishik of the graduate school of public health, University of Pittsburgh, believes children are influenced in starting to smoke by their older brothers and sisters, parents, and friends. But tobacco advertising also plays an important role by glamorizing the smoker.

The coming campaign by various groups to discourage children from starting the habit will be aimed at this smoker image. An attempt will be made to build the concept that cigaret smoking is immature, juvenile, and silly. It will be geared to the less intelligent boys and girls because surveys demonstrate that those who do the poorest in school are more likely to smoke at an earlier age.

SIGNS OF DETERIORATION

Mrs. B. H. writes: How is degeneration of the brain diagnosed?

REPLY

By observing the behavior of the individual, such as his reactions to certain situations, memory, and judgment. In addition, a thorough neurological examination is done, including an electroencephalogram.

ETHMOIDITIS

B. K. writes: What can be done for disease of the ethmoid sinus? Nosedrops don't help.

REPLY

Consult a competent nose specialist. If the diagnosis is confirmed, he will utilize other procedures to promote drainage of this sinus.

VACCINATION OF OLDSTERS

E. J. M. writes: It is wise for a man of 72 to be vaccinated against smallpox? He was vaccinated as a child.

REPLY

Yes, even though his chance of developing the disease at this age is almost nil. There must be millions of adults who have not been vaccinated since childhood who are susceptible to smallpox. They ought to be vaccinated.

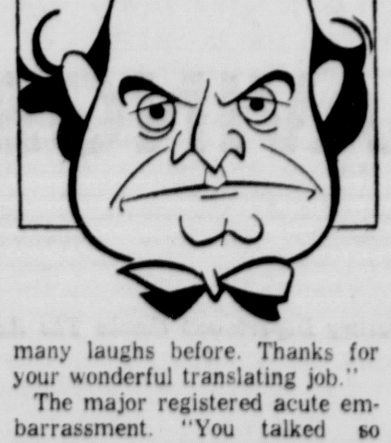
TOMORROW: The sneezin' season.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One day William Jennings Bryan was posing for his portrait — to be presented to his wife on their thirtieth wedding anniversary. The artist suggested that Mr. Bryan have his hair cut before he posed. "No sir," was the answer. "When I was courting Mrs. Bryan, she complained that my ears stuck out, so I let my hair grow this long purposely to cover them. She was very pleased, too." "But Mr. Bryan," protested the artist, "that was over thirty years ago." "So it was," agreed Bryan. "But the romance is still going on!"



Touring army bases one Christmas season, a famous TV comedian found himself in South Korea, with an audience composed largely of native soldiers who didn't understand a word of English. Fortunately, a Korean major volunteered to translate the comedian's monologue.

The performance was a riotous success. When he left the stage, the comedian admitted, "That old routine of mine never got half that many laughs before. Thanks for your wonderful translating job."

The major registered acute embarrassment. "You talked so fast," he admitted, "that I lost you completely after your first three sentences. I was telling the boys a few stories of my own."

A fakir in Delhi cried out, "I've discovered two sacks of brand new nails." "Hurrah," cheered an even bigger fakir nearby. "Let's have a pillow fight."

Nothing beats a lazy Sunday at home. . .

We had one a few days ago. It was a dream. The air conditioners were in a hushed roar. I read the papers, with part of my mind on the news, another small part on the ballgame on television, and a large part debating whether to fall asleep on the couch or fight it sitting up.

Kathleen, 8, who is learning to sew, had made a blue doll's pocket, but was having a problem. Somehow, she had sewed it to her slip. Karen, who is 10 and tall, had a little difficulty lifting her feet over the dog. She managed to flatten herself twice. Kelly was in the kitchen with a roast, asking herself out loud whether it is better to put the thermometer in the meat when the inside is still frozen, or whether to wait until it's partly cooked.

The doorbell rang. It was Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frechette. Also their tribe of Comanches. Nothing in the world is guaranteed to bring brighter smiles to Kelly's face or mine than the appearance of the Frechettes. One has to see it to believe it.

The twins—Pamela and Robin—are now five. They have Buster Brown bobs. They are identical twins, except that Pamela is the little serious mother of the tribe, and Robin is the hell-raiser. Next comes Jim, who is 4, a tinker and thinker. He is a crew cut who will sit for hours over knots in a piece of string.

Then Kevin Gerard, who is almost three, a moon-faced con man who can smile you out of the fillings in your teeth, and who is built like a runaway pick-up truck. Then there is Chipper, who is really Charles Albert, and he will be one next month. Last, there is a sixth child, who will be born around Christmas time. What am I saying—last?

They are a well-dressed group, a typical after-church family portrait. The father, Charles Frechette, is a big red-head who works for the Lily-Tulip Corporation in the shipping department. Charlie is a non-panic pipe puffer, a man trying to carve a career commensurate with the size of his family.

They arrived in a station wagon, and should have a bus. We decided to play African gin before dinner. Rocky, the worrisome police dog, sits under the dining room table and I rub his fur with my bare foot. I was rubbing some time before I peeked under the table cloth and found that I had my toes in Chipper's hair.

Pamela skidded down the steps into the living room and mother managed to assuage her grief while keeping one eye on the cards in her hand and one on Jim, who was trying to smother Kevin with pillows. Charlie didn't know the game we were playing, so he asked questions and won. Kelly kept excusing herself to go out into the kitchen to look at the roast and the vegetables.

Gayle, who will be 20 in November, works nights at Riverview Hospital, so she was sleeping in her room. Or, so we thought. The kitchen door swung open, and Gayle emerged, saying a hurry-up hello and banking the turns on her way out to get something from the car. This one was born with running feet. She washes the car four times a week.

Kelly said that the children would have to eat on the porch and the adults inside. Someone switched the ballgame off because the children wanted to watch a nice relaxing horror movie featuring people with no heads. Gayle busted back in the house in time to jam the door against Rocky's nose and Kevin tilted a chair so that Kathleen almost flew out of it.

The phone rang. It was my father, who said that if I was missing the ballgame I was missing half my life. He said that something must be wrong with his ears because he could hear all kinds of funny noises on the phone. We had dinner, and the kids on the porch kept coming in with minute-by-minute reports on who was eating his dinner and who was not.

Karen took Chipper out on the front lawn and managed to fall into the petunias. I decided to go out back into the office and write a column. My twin granddaughters watched gravely and said, in unison: "Why you do dat, Pop-Pop?" I couldn't think of a reason.

Kelly took the left-overs and put the meat in a tin plate for Rocky, and she and Ginny washed the dishes and talked woman talk. It was several minutes before they looked down and saw that Rocky and Chipper were eating from the same dish. Ironically, Rocky didn't mind.

It's an exciting and wonderful thing to have the whole family together. Exciting and wonderful and terrifying. In the evening, when they departed, and Gayle had gone to work and Kathleen and Karen had said their night prayers and were in bed, I grinned at Kelly. She was sprawled on a chair, blowing hair out of her eyes.

Time For Showdown In Chicken War

Washington is threatening to get rough in its moves to keep European markets open to U. S. poultry exports. It's high time.

The administration is considering steps to increase tariffs on a broad range of products imported from the Common Market nations. There have been warnings such retaliation would be forthcoming unless the Common Market reduced its recently increased tariffs against American poultry.

But to date the administration has been chicken. It is time to stop threatening and start acting. The Common Market's tariff action, if not rescinded, will cost U. S. poultrymen $46 million annually.

Imports against which Washington may move to retaliate include such items as wines, brandies, trucks, buses and photographic film and paper. While the intent is to decrease American purchases of these products, thus applying an economic pinch to Western Europe, the action will have the side effect of increasing their cost to those Americans who will still buy them.

But it is obvious that it will require a strong demonstration that Washington actually will retaliate, instead of merely threatening, to bring the Europeans around.

This poultry export dispute has dragged on long enough. It is time for a showdown.

These Days

Where Is Our Trading Instinct

The United States has Khrushchev over a barrel. The only drawback to the situation at this exceedingly propitious moment in history is that we have a positive genius for failing to exact anything worthwhile when we make a trade.

How do we know that Khrushchev is in trouble? We get signals, sometimes obliquely relayed, from all over the place. Khrushchev is "taking it" as he has never taken it before. Mao Tse-tung, even though he is in a position of exposed economic weakness, is utterly careless when it comes to flouting the Kremlin. The East Europeans lack Mao's vast temerity, but in their own sly way they are managing to tell Moscow what they think. The Rumanians, hearing that the most backward new nations in Africa are demanding complete "equality," let their Soviet masters know that they are tired of giving up more than they are getting when the terms of trade between the satellites and the Russian economy are set. From Czechoslovakia the news comes that the Supreme Court is "juridically" pardoning Communists who were hanged in 1952 for the great crime of "trying to tie Czechoslovakia's economy to the West."

All of these items go to paint a picture: Khrushchev must appease the peoples of Eastern Europe if he is to brazen it out with Mao Tse-tung's new "Fifth International" in Asia.

So what does Washington do to capitalize on Khrushchev's troubles? It lets slip the information that Marshall Plan-type funds might still be available to any nation "west of Asia." And it releases a story that the U.S. is preparing to resume full diplomatic relations with Hungary. This sort of thing is tantamount to announcing at an auction just how high you are prepared to go even before your competitors have entered a single bid.

True enough, the story about resuming relations with Hungary contains a cautionary word that the move is contingent on a "positive" sign that the Kadar government wants better relations. And the name of Cardinal Mindszenty, who has been living in political asylum in the U.S. Legation in Budapest, is mentioned. But "freedom" for the Cardinal to go into exile is hardly enough if that is all that is to be proposed for a trade.

The truth is that Cardinal Mindszenty would regard it as a great defeat if he were forced, by Vatican pressure, to accept exile in Rome as a "gift" from the Kadar government. Such a defeat is not in the works, for neither the present Pope nor his predecessor has considered putting any compulsion on the Cardinal, who is still Primate of Hungary, to quit Budapest under any terms other than his own. The Vatican may have hopes for the "opening to the East," but it is apparently not even asking lesser church figures than Cardinal Mindszenty to make unpalatable concessions to the Kadar government as the price of a "relaxation of tensions."

To make a case for his own "leniency," Kadar released six Roman Catholic bishops from internment some time ago. But three of these bishops, Peteri, Badalik, and Szabo, have elected to take the same stand that Cardinal Mindszenty has taken. They were willing to accept release provided they could either return to their old dioceses or take up residence in Budapest. When these alternatives were denied to them, they freely chose to return to their internment quarters in the village of Hejcze.

Before Washington makes any deal with Kadar involving the resumption of diplomatic relations, let the proper conditions for such resumption be stated firmly. Condition Number One would be freedom for Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty to return to the seat of his diocese in Esztergom, there to take up his life from where he left off before 1956, when the Hungarian revolution was so brutally suppressed. Condition Number Two would be complete freedom for Bishops Peteri, Badalik, and Szabo to resume their ecclesiastic duties. Condition Number Three would be to let the church, not the secretary of the Hungarian Communist Party, pass on the qualifications of candidates for seminary study.

Beyond all this, there should be no new diplomatic dealings with the Kadar regime until there has been full amnesty for all the participants in the 1956 uprising. If we are going to let Khrushchev wriggle off the hook in his present extremity, let us, for Heaven's sake, get something out of it. We should be tired of bowing to Moscow thrice daily, and saying, "Thank you, Khrush, for giving us nothing."

A Treaty At The Cost Of Human Freedom

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Again the cause of human freedom in the world has suffered a defeat. The West German government, under pressure from the United States government, has been required, in effect, to sign a treaty it doesn't want to sign — a treaty that gives a form of diplomatic recognition to the puppet regime established by the Soviets in East Germany. This postpones still further the day when the people of Germany can be reunited and set up a single republic of their own.

There were other ways to prevent West Germany from ever engaging by itself in nuclear testing in the air or in outer space or underwater as provided in the new treaty between the East and West signed recently in Moscow. Iron-clad pledges against testing could have been given by the West German government in a separate agreement or treaty made only with Great Britain and the United States. This would have avoided any embarrassment for the West German government, which now is placed in the humiliating position of signing a treaty with Moscow on a parity with the Soviet satellite in East Germany.

So far as the status of nuclear testing is concerned, it would not have been affected in the least if West Germany had been permitted to deal only with her partners — Great Britain and the United States. But as matters stand now, the peoples of both East and West Germany have suffered a diminution of hope for refunification.

The United States, as a champion of human freedom, could have found an alternative way to accomplish its purpose — namely, to get signed a universal pledge of her own against certain kinds of nuclear testing. As it is, an opportunity to proclaim to the world the interest of the American people in seeing their peoples of the two Germanys given a chance to exercise their right of "self-determination" was sacrificed.

These are days when much is being said about the importance of "civil rights" to human beings everywhere. The United States has given lip service to this ideal in recent years, but almost every opportunity to advance such ideals internationally in a practical way has been passed up by a kind of cringing diplomacy. For, every time it is suggested that the United States government through the Department of State should, for instance, stand up for principles of self-determination, the argument is made, at least where Russia is concerned, that the West must not do anything to displease Moscow because this "might lead to war."

The cry "Do you want war?" is used to answer every plea for the United States to demand that human rights be respected by the Communist dictatorship. The Soviet government, moreover, has put the United States in a humiliating position in Cuba. More than 15,000 Soviet troops today have control of the Cuban government. The Cuban people have been deprived of their right of self-determination, but the only answer given hereabouts is in the form of a question: "Do you want war?"

Oddly enough, measures short of war are used by the United States government to discipline smaller nations which are too weak to strike back. Thus, the Washington government is leading the fight to shut off arms to and punish the Republic of South Africa because it maintains racial segregation. The real purpose, of course, is to curry favor with some African nations and to win Negro votes at home. Yet no stringent measures are taken to persuade members of the United Nations to embargo arms and discontinue trade relations with the Soviets because of the physical segregation established, for instance, by the Moscow government in East Germany.

Thus, the "Berlin Wall" now is two years old. Twenty-eight miles of concrete, steel girders and barbed wire divide the people of the single city of Berlin into two sectors. More than 11,000 Soviet troops guard the border. Ten thousand citizens of West Berlin who had gardens or houses in East Berlin have lost their property. Gerd Wilcke in a dispatch from Bonn, Germany, to the New York Times says:

"Nobody in the West knows how many East Germans have tried to climb the concrete slabs to reach the West. But several dozen who did try have died, killed while attempting to flee over the wall or through the mine fields and barbed-wire barriers of the 830-mile border dividing Germany. About 16,500 men, women and children have made it, among them enough military and police guards to provide 13 companies of troops."

This shocking situation is being ignored by the Western Allies. Instead, the Secretary of State of the United States is pictured in shirtsleeves on the front pages of the newspapers as playing table games at a seaside resort with Premier Khrushchev.

Everything is being done through the current propaganda moves on both sides of the Iron Curtain to give the impression that the United States is willing to let bygones be bygones and that the Soviet conquest of Eastern Europe is accepted as permanent.

Today's defeatism among Western governments amounts to a virtual abandonment of the cause of human freedom in Eastern Europe and is attributable to a supine diplomacy which is really the equivalent of the policies of "peace at any price" that brought on World War II.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

ROCKEFELLER ACTIVITY — New York's Gov. Rockefeller is acting like the desperate man he obviously is in his attempt to recapture the position of prominence he once held in the GOP president sweepstakes.

Rockefeller is by far the busiest of the potential Republican presidential nominees. He is doing so many things, taking so many stands, issuing so many statements that his views are almost daily topics of discussion in GOP political leadership circles.

In particular, his attack on the right wing of the Republican Party is a long gamble to regain support for his own presidential aspirations. His current startegy is a far cry from what it was only a few short months ago when he operated in the belief that he had the support of liberal and middle - of - the - road Republican voters and sought to demonstrate that he also should be acceptable to the conservatives of his party.

Rockefeller's change in plans is no accident, however. Close observers of the political scene are convinced that he is seeking to re-establish a favorable image in the eyes of the voters, not the party leaders. This is so because his remaining hope is to win big in some of the early state presidential primaries next year.

A demonstration that he can still draw a heavy popular vote is Rockefeller's only chance of swinging the 1964 GOP presidential convention away from its leaders' present conviction that he has killed himself politically by his divorce and remarriage.

Of Pesticides, Disinfectants, And Smoking

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

A two-year study by the Food and Drug Administration again demonstrates that foods readily available in supermarkets contain ample quantities of vitamins and are not poisoned with pesticides. They selected items consumed by the biggest eater in the nation—the 19-year-old boy who tucks away 60 pounds of groceries a week.

According to the New York State Journal of Medicine, the study was conducted to determine the amount of pesticide residue and vitamin content of a growing boy's weekly allotment of food. Chemical tests were made for organic phosphate type insectides and for 20 different chlorinated hydrocarbons, including DDT. The results: Either no residues or only traces of some. The vitamin content was up to par.

Many swimming pools contain so much disinfectant, the swimmers' eyes smart and burn. Experiments were conducted recently in three pools at Stanford University, where iodine was used instead of chlorine. Thirty young swimmers were selected and the result of the study showed they preferred iodine or had no preference; three discontinued the use of protective goggles. Others who had experienced eye irritation with chlorine said they had none when iodine was used.

The tremendous increase in cigaret smoking by the younger set means that many will become heavy smokers by the time they are 20 years old. This is significant because the incidence of lung cancer, emphysema, and heart disease is greater among those who smoke more than two packages a day.

Dr. Samuel M. Wishik of the graduate school of public health, University of Pittsburgh, believes children are influenced in starting to smoke by their older brothers and sisters, parents, and friends. But tobacco advertising also plays an important role by glamorizing the smoker.

The coming campaign by various groups to discourage children from starting the habit will be aimed at this smoker image. An attempt will be made to build the concept that cigaret smoking is immature, juvenile, and silly. It will be geared to the less intelligent boys and girls because surveys demonstrate that those who do the poorest in school are more likely to smoke at an earlier age.

SIGNS OF DETERIORATION

Mrs. B. H. writes: How is degeneration of the brain diagnosed?

REPLY

By observing the behavior of the individual, such as his reactions to certain situations, memory, and judgment. In addition, a thorough neurological examination is done, including an electroencephalogram.

ETHMOIDITIS

B. K. writes: What can be done for disease of the ethmoid sinus? Nosedrops don't help.

REPLY

Consult a competent nose specialist. If the diagnosis is confirmed, he will utilize other procedures to promote drainage of this sinus.

VACCINATION OF OLDSTERS

E. J. M. writes: It is wise for a man of 72 to be vaccinated against smallpox? He was vaccinated as a child.

REPLY

Yes, even though his chance of developing the disease at this age is almost nil. There must be millions of adults who have not been vaccinated since childhood who are susceptible to smallpox. They ought to be vaccinated.

TOMORROW: The sneezin' season.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

One day William Jennings Bryan was posing for his portrait — to be presented to his wife on their thirtieth wedding anniversary. The artist suggested that Mr. Bryan have his hair cut before he posed. "No sir," was the answer. "When I was courting Mrs. Bryan, she complained that my ears stuck out, so I let my hair grow this long purposely to cover them. She was very pleased, too." "But Mr. Bryan," protested the artist, "that was over thirty years ago." "So it was," agreed Bryan. "But the romance is still going on!"

Touring army bases one Christmas season, a famous TV comedian found himself in South Korea, with an audience composed largely of native soldiers who didn't understand a word of English. Fortunately, a Korean major volunteered to translate the comedian's monologue.

The performance was a riotous success. When he left the stage, the comedian admitted, "That old routine of mine never got half that many laughs before. Thanks for your wonderful translating job."

The major registered acute embarrassment. "You talked so fast," he admitted, "that I lost you completely after your first three sentences. I was telling the boys a few stories of my own."

A fakir in Delhi cried out, "I've discovered two sacks of brand new nails." "Hurrah," cheered an even bigger fakir nearby. "Let's have a pillow fight."

Kefauver Stuck To His Convictions, Never Bowed To The Party Bosses

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — If President Kennedy should choose to expand his book, "Profiles in Courage," I suggest he write about the only man who ever bested him in politics, who took the Vice Presidential nomination away from him in 1956: the late Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

This Lincoln of a man, homespun, ungainly, often stood alone in the United States Senate. But he stood tall.

Consider these flashbacks:

FLASHBACK, 1956 — Kefauver dug deep into his own pocket, mortgaging his home and hiring out as a lecturer, to pay off old campaign bills. Yet as a Presidential candidate in 1956, despite his campaign poverty, he refused a $10,000 contribution with strings attached.

All he had to do was condemn, in a public speech, a United Nations pronouncement against Israel. This would be worth $10,000 to his destitute campaign, he was told. But Kefauver, though pro-Israel, refused to bargain for his contributions.

FLASHBACK, 1954 — The late Senator Joe McCarthy threatened to attack Kefauver in Tennessee, painting him as a political pink, if Kefauver accepted an invitation to speak against McCarthy in Wisconsin.

Estes took up the warning with his staff, listened silently as each one begged him not to pick a fight with McCarthy on the eve of the Tennessee elections. He thanked them for their advice, then quietly announced his decision: "McCarthy is bad for the country. I reckon I'll have to say so."

Minority Of One

FLASHBACK, 1954 — Stung by charges they were soft on Communism, Democratic Senators introduced a bill to outlaw the Communist Party and dared the Republicans to vote for it. This would have subjected people to prosecution because of their political beliefs.

But the Republicans accepted the challenge and lined up unanimously with the Democrats for the bill. Only Kefauver, refusing to play politics, stood against it.

His anguished political advisers warned that his stand would be misinterpreted back home, that he would be called a Red.

"The least you can do," begged a friend, phoning from Tennessee, "is duck out on the vote."

But the final rollcall was 81 to 1; Kefauver was the lone dissenter.

(Later, the bill was pigeonholed after FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover joined Kefauver in warning that it not only would be unconstitutional but would drive the Communists underground.)

FLASHBACK, 1952—In the Presidential race, Kefauver bucked the party bosses, beat all comers in the primaries, and entered the Democratic convention with the most pledged delegates. Still, he needed more support to win the nomination.

Texas Governor Allen Shivers, boss of the big Texas delegation, chose this crucial moment to pay a secret call on Kefauver. Shivers wanted to know how the Senator felt about turning the tidelands over to the states, so the big oil companies could drill for oil.

No Deal

Would Kefauver agree to let Congress decide the issue and not use the veto if he were elected President? No, said Kefauver. Would Kefauver agree to turn offshore oil over to the states within a three-mile limit? No, Kefauver said again.

Thus Texas slipped irretrievably from his grasp. And he lost the nomination on the third ballot after leading the first two.

FLASHBACK, 1950 — Digging into organized crime, Kefauver turned over a compost pile of gangland - political connections. Deep in the pile was a $2,500 contribution that crime czar Frank Costello had given to the Democratic National Committee in 1947.

"Is this to be brought out at the the public hearings?" demanded Democratic leaders.

"It is," said the Senator. And it was.

FLASHBACK, 1949 — Though a Southerner, Kefauver managed to stir up the mighty wrath of the South by supporting civil rights legislation. When a resolution was offered to curb Senate filibusters, Kefauver at once announced support for it.

Thus the Senate was treated to the unusual spectacle of a Senator speaking with Southern accent against the filibuster.

FLASHBACK, 1920 — Kefauver came out of the Tennessee hills to the University of Tennesse, a straw suitcase in one hand, a cap perched atop his head. Tightly drawn against his huge bulk was an ill-fitting suit, which seemed red in one light, green in another. Across his chest in a neat row were all the ribbons Estes had accumulated for perfect attendance at Sunday School.

Clothes Disappear

He was greeted by a cousin, Thomas Walker, who dutifully brought Kefauver into his fraternity. That alternating red-and-green, mail-order suit offended the eyes of Estes' fraternity brothers. (Not to mention his yellow shoes, his shrunken cap, his array of Sunday school pins.)

Solemnly, they conspired to swipe Kefauver's colorful clothes and force him to buy a new wardrobe. Thus began the mystery of the missing duds, which was to puzzle Estes throughout his freshman year.

He would return from class to find a pair of orange socks gone. A week later his shoes disappeared. Then his cap. And one night, while he slept, the miracle suit of two colors vanished into the night.

From this unlikely beginning, Estes Kefauver went on to become editor of the college newspaper, president of the junior class, president of the All-Students Club, president of the Southern Federation of College Students, and a football star who earned the affectionate nickname, "Old Ironsides."

He continued on to Yale and academic glory. He became a corporation lawyer, a Congressman, a Senator and a Presidential candidate.

But he never lost touch with the Tennessee hills, with the everyday people who make up the backbone of America.

They are the ones now who will miss him the most.

As statistical-minded as we are today, the Treasury Department can't answer that question.

The Treasury does know that U. S. Savings Bonds are owned by tens of millions of families. So it might be safe to assume that people in every walk of life belong to this "savings club."

This is a happy fact for the United States, and for the free peoples of the earth. For Savings Bond dollars are playing an important role today in the making of history.

Army Exhibit At Romney Highlights Civil War

ROMNEY, W. Va.—Little known facts of the Civil War are revealed in an eye-catching Army exhibit to be featured at State School Recreation Hall in Romney, August 27 and 28, during the West Virginia Centennial celebration.

The colorful and information-packed exhibit—produced by the Army's Chief of Information in cooperation with the National Civil War Centennial Commission—not only depicts the valor of the war's heroes, but also shows how many Civil War innovations have contributed to the nation's current military prowess.

Featured in the exciting display is an electrically animated exhibit showing eight major events of the war, ranging from Fort Moultrie and the attack on Fort Sumter to Appomattox four years later.

A movie features other Civil War highlights, and a series of colorful displays illustrates the war's big guns—forerunners of today's modern Army artillery.

One portion of the exhibit pays tribute to early America's patriotic youth—many of them mere boys—who enlisted as orderlies and musicians. These dauntless youths often sneaked into combat, fighting and dying alongside grown men.

The Army's never-ending search for better ways of caring for its wounded is emphasized in another section of the exhibit which contrasts medical facilities and techniques of 100 years ago with those of today.

Interesting from both an historical and an artistic viewpoint are color reproductions of typical Civil War art subjects. Also included are life-size photo-murals of the Civil War's most celebrated leaders, Generals Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee.

Army exhibit specialists will be on hand to answer visitors' questions. The display is open to the public without charge.

Army Exhibit At Romney Highlights Civil War

ROMNEY, W. Va.—Little known facts of the Civil War are revealed in an eye-catching Army exhibit to be featured at State School Recreation Hall in Romney, August 27 and 28, during the West Virginia Centennial celebration.

The colorful and information-packed exhibit—produced by the Army's Chief of Information in cooperation with the National Civil War Centennial Commission—not only depicts the valor of the war's heroes, but also shows how many Civil War innovations have contributed to the nation's current military prowess.

Featured in the exciting display is an electrically animated exhibit showing eight major events of the war, ranging from Fort Moultrie and the attack on Fort Sumter to Appomattox four years later.

A movie features other Civil War highlights, and a series of colorful displays illustrates the war's big guns—forerunners of today's modern Army artillery.

One portion of the exhibit pays tribute to early America's patriotic youth—many of them mere boys—who enlisted as orderlies and musicians. These dauntless youths often sneaked into combat, fighting and dying alongside grown men.

The Army's never-ending search for better ways of caring for its wounded is emphasized in another section of the exhibit which contrasts medical facilities and techniques of 100 years ago with those of today.

Interesting from both an historical and an artistic viewpoint are color reproductions of typical Civil War art subjects. Also included are life-size photo-murals of the Civil War's most celebrated leaders, Generals Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee.

Army exhibit specialists will be on hand to answer visitors' questions. The display is open to the public without charge.

California Cuties Will Play Dapper Dan Managers Tonight

Famed Novelty Team In Benefit Contest At Penn Ave. Field

Softball's famed novelty team, the California Cuties, will make their second appearance in Cumberland in three years, when they play a team composed of managers and coaches of the Dapper Dan Little League tonight at 8 o'clock at Penn Avenue Field.

Proceeds of the contest will go to the Dapper Dan Little League.

A big hit with local fans two years ago, the Cuties combine talent with comedy. The team is composed of topnotch West Coast softball stars who dress and play in women's garb.

Originated in Compton, Calif., by owner and player Trino Palacios, who parades as Liza Jane, the zany but talented Cuties use such catchy names as Beulah, the world's smallest softballer, 36 inches tall; Main Street Sally, Dumpy Dora, Fifi The Flirt, Dinah Sore, Hefty Helen, among others.

The Californians will present a pre-game variety show in addition to their famous diamond antics that include outfielders armed with butterfly nets and zany base-running. Lots of laughter is sure to explode as the Cuties go into their game routines.

The 21 Dapper Dan League managers and coaches named to play against the Cuties are:

PLAY HERE TONIGHT—Main Street Sally and Fifi The Flirt, shown left to right, will be seen in action tonight at Penn Avenue Field where the California Cuties, famed novelty softball team, play the Dapper Dan Little League managers and coaches at 8 o'clock. The West Coast men's softball team will be attired in women's garb and will present a pre-game variety show in addition to their diamond antics. They appeared here two years ago and made a big hit with local fans. The game is being staged for the benefit of the Dapper Dan Little League.

Chicago Beats Cleveland, 3-0

Dave DeBusschere Hurls Six-Hitter

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave DeBusschere, a gangling rookie who plays professional basketball in the winter, hurled the Chicago White Sox to a 3-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.

DeBusschere, whose record is now 3-4 marked up his first shutout on a 6-hitter. He scored his only other major league victories against the last place Washington Senators.

He was in command against Cleveland from the outset and once his club had staked him to a 3-0 lead in five innings, the 6-7, 22-year-old coasted to the triumph which pulled the second-place White Sox within 8½ games of the league-leading New York Yankees who were rained out at Boston.

Two Aces Same Day 5th Coach 10 Years

Mazzone, Prado 16-2 "Chick" Davies Back

By C. V. BURNS

TWO holes-in-one were recorded on the same hole Monday at the Cumberland Country Club.

During the first round of the Caddies' Tournament, Tom Hedrick connected on No. 10.

Later in the day, Harry I. Stegmaier, Jr., a student of Santa Clara (Calif.) University, and son of the well known Cumberland lawyer, slammed in an ace on 157-yard No. 10 with a nine iron. Witnesses were Kenneth White, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. E. A. Gentry.

This marks the second time two aces have been made on the same hole the same day at the CCC and both times No. 10 was the target.

Bert Mason and Maurice Milberg made holes-in-one on No. 10 while playing in consecutive foursomes several years ago, according to Carroll Boggs and Dick Buskey.

Paul Owens is the only player to register a pair the same year and that was in 1961.

Four aces have been registered at the Christie Road course this year, upping the total to 71 in the 43-year history of the club. Mrs. Harry Walton and "Chuck" Butt scored earlier this year.

The season record for the course is seven, set in 1958 and equalled in 1961.

LEROY BOLDING, who succeeds Thomas Domen as Southern High School's head football coach is the fifth grid mentor to be named at the Oakland school in ten years.

Bolding was assistant coach last year.

Football was inaugurated at the Garrett County school in 1954 by James DeMoss. He was followed by Dick Travis, Earl "Whitey" Adolfson and Domen, who stayed only one year at Southern High.

Here are the coaches and their records:

1956—Dick Travis	2	7	0

LEO MAZZONE and Johnny Prado, the one-two pitching punch of Westernport's first pennant winning team in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League, boast 8-1 records each and between they have struck out 234 batsmen between them in 121⅔ innings.

Mazzone, a southpaw, who hurled for the first team ever fielded by St. Peter's High School this year as a freshman, whiffed 134 Pony Leaguers in 62⅔ innings while Prado, a righthander, mowed down an even 100 in 59 frames.

Manager Tony Mazzone's champs wound up the campaign with a 19-2 record and nine of the victories came via the shutout route. Prado turned in four whitewashing jobs, Mazzone three and Jack McIntyre and Dale Ryan one each. In six other games the opposition was limited to a single run.

Westernport blanked every team in the league at least once but the LaVale Pirates and they scored only four runs in dropping three straight to the champs. Cresaptown, Lonaconing and the LaVale Cubs were each skunked twice.

"CHICK" DAVIES at 63 is making a comeback in basketball for the 1963-64 season.

The man who made Duquesne University a national basketball power and whose "Iron Dukes" had a 314-105 record from 1924 through 1947, is taking over as coach at Robert Morris Junior College, Pittsburgh — a school without a home court, a 5-20 record last year and rather dim prospects for the coming season.

It will be Davies' first coaching job since the South American games in 1955 when he handled Colombia, national team.

Presently, "Chick" is a senior English teacher at Homestead High School where he coached after leaving Duquesne.

Davies appeared in this section as a player in the early 1920s as a member of the Second Story Morrys whose personnel included Bill Campbell, "Peck" Lee, "Brick" Fidler, "Moon" Klinzing, Dave Mervis, Whitey Lytle, Dave Mervis, etc., The Morrys and Coffey Club were Pittsburgh's topnotch quints of that era.

"Chick" handled several Pennsylvania teams and later served as commissioner of the All-American Pro Basketball League when Cumberland was represented by the Dukes and Sphas in the late 1940s and early 1950s. Other clubs in that circuit included Altoona Flyers, Pittsburgh, Washington, Pa., Beaver Falls, Butler, Wheeling, Youngstown, Dayton, Erie and Johnstown.

Among Cumberland's players were Bob Pence, Lou Bell, George Geatz, Paul Overhaus, "Red" Klotz, Bob Snaith, Gus Frizzell, Bob Johnson, "Whitey" Mathewson, John Murphy, Roger Day, Jim Fahey, Jim Clevenger, etc.

Cumberland, incidentally, won the title in 1948-49, beating Wheeling in the post-season series.

Farmed Out Catcher Blasts Houston's Youth Movement

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Catcher Jim Campbell said Tuesday he will be out of baseball or back in the big leagues next year, but not with the Houston Colts.

"If they don't trade or sell me to another club, or I'm not drafted, I've had it," said Campbell, who was sent to the 89ers in the Pacific Coast League last month.

Campbell said Colt manager Paul Richards "has gone overboard with his youth movement." He mentioned catcher John Bateman, 21, and rookie Rusty Staub.

"Bateman is a big strong boy; he has the best throwing arm I've ever seen, but he's a patsy at the plate," Campbell said.

Of Staub, Campbell said. "He's the most highly publicized .200 batter in baseball."

Campbell will become a draft eligible after this year's Pacific Coast League race ends.

Athletics Top Detroit, 4-2

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City A's scored three unearned runs, two on only one hit in the eighth inning, and whipped the Detroit Tigers 4-2 Tuesday night.

The deciding runs, snapping a 2-2 tie, were scored on a wild throw by first baseman Norm Cash in the eighth. Cash, trying for a force play at third on a sacrifice bunt by Wayne Causey, threw the ball away and both pinch-runner Tony LaRussa and Jose Tartabull scored.

Charlie Lau opened the rally by drawing a walk as a pinch hitter for winning pitcher Ted Bowfield. LaRussa ran for Lau and moved to second on Tartabull's single.

Magazine Asks Venue Change In Bryant Trial

Don't Expect Fair Trial In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The publishers of a national magazine have asked that the trial of Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's $10-million libel suit against them be moved to another state, it was revealed Tuesday.

Curtis Publishing Company filed a change of venue motion in Federal Court here late Monday. Lawyers for Curtis, publisher of the Saturday Evening Post, claimed it would be impossible to obtain a fair trial anywhere in Alabama.

Bryant and former University of Georgia athletic director Wally Butts both filed $10-million suits because of a Post article called "The Story of a College Football Fix." The article alleged that Bryant and Butts conspired to "rig" the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game won by Alabama 35-0.

The trial of Butts' case was nearing completion in Atlanta and pre-trial hearings in Bryant's case were scheduled here for Friday.

In the change of venue motion, Curtis said it and the Post had been subjected to "frequent and widespread attacks throughout the state of Alabama.

Bryant also has a $500,000 suit pending against Curtis for a story entitled "Is College Football Going Berserk?"

Orioles Down Twins, Barber Gets 16th Win

Orsino Homers In 6-1 Victory

MINNEAPOLIS-St. Paul (AP)— Sturdy Steve Barber registered his 16th victory and John Orsino drove in two runs as Baltimore downed Minnesota 6-1 Tuesday night to move within a half game of the third-place Twins.

Barber, who has lost nine, scattered eight Twins hits while striking out nine and walking one.

Harmon Killebrew spoiled Barber's shutout bid in the eighth inning with his 27th home run.

Orsino stroked his 12th homer in leading off the second, and sent home another tally with a single in the third.

Orsino and Killebrew each had two singles in addition to their homers.

Barber doubled home an Oriole run in the sixth. The Birds tacked on two more in the eighth on a wild pitch and Luis Aparicio's single. Boog Powell of the Orioles got his 20th homer in the ninth.

Loser Dick Stigman, 12-11, struck out eight in the seven innings he worked. He is second in the American League in strikeouts with 144.

Best First Baseman Not Limited To One Position

Power Excelling At Second Sack For Minnesota

By BOB MARTEL

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—Earlier this season Minnesota Twins first baseman Vic Power walked into the clubhouse and discovered a rocking chair sitting in front of his locker.

A note attached to the Early American chair read "To Vic Power, your own private rocking chair." The note was signed by an umpire.

To the millions of fans who see Power perform his magic around first base each season, it seems as though Vic might be able to ply his trade from a rocker. But baseball's finest fielding first baseman isn't limited to one position.

Last Saturday catcher Earl Battey suffered a dislocated finger and had to leave the game. Jerry Zimmerman, the only other catcher on the Twins' roster, took Battey's place. After the game manager Sam Mele was asked who would have caught if Zimmerman had been injured.

"Vic Power, of course," answered Mele.

Plays Every Position

Since starting in professional baseball in 1950, Power has played every position except pitcher.

"I pitched some in high school," Power said. "But my arm hurt and I quit."

When Power was stumbling around the .240 batting mark several weeks ago, Mele benched the Puerto Rican in favor of Don Mincher, who began hitting the long ball. It looked as though Power might ride the bench for quite a while.

The Twins' skipper also had benched second baseman Bernie Allen and given the job to Johnny Goryl. When Rich Rollins was hit in the head by a ground ball in New York, Power stepped in and played third.

Takes Over Second

Then when Goryl pulled a muscle, Power moved over to second where he found his batting eye and a permanent job.

"My biggest worry about Power playing second was whether or not he could make the double play," Mele said. "But after I saw him make a couple, I quit worrying."

Power, who admits to 31 years of age but claims he has been playing baseball 17 years has been the American League All-Star first baseman five times. He also has been named the league's best fielding first baseman the past five years.

Power sports a nifty .289 batting average for 10 years in the majors and finished second to Al Kaline in the 1955 batting race.

"It's difficult to assess Power's worth to the club," Mele said. "He can play anywhere for you and can do just about anything with his bat."

"I like playing second base. I think it will add 10 years to my playing career," Power said with a grin.

California Cuties Will Play Dapper Dan Managers Tonight

Famed Novelty Team In Benefit Contest At Penn Ave. Field

Softball's famed novelty team, the California Cuties, will make their second appearance in Cumberland in three years, when they play a team composed of managers and coaches of the Dapper Dan Little League tonight at 8 o'clock at Penn Avenue Field.

Proceeds of the contest will go to the Dapper Dan Little League.

A big hit with local fans two years ago, the Cuties combine talent with comedy. The team is composed of topnotch West Coast softball stars who dress and play in women's garb.

Originated in Compton, Calif., by owner and player Trino Palacios, who parades as Liza Jane, the zany but talented Cuties use such catchy names as Beulah, the world's smallest softballer, 36 inches tall; Main Street Sally, Dumpy Dora, Fifi The Flirt, Dinah Sore, Hefty Helen, among others.

The Californians will present a pre-game variety show in addition to their famous diamond antics that include outfielders armed with butterfly nets and zany base-running. Lots of laughter is sure to explode as the Cuties go into their game routines.

The 21 Dapper Dan League managers and coaches named to play against the Cuties are:

PLAY HERE TONIGHT—Main Street Sally and Fifi The Flirt, shown left to right, will be seen in action tonight at Penn Avenue Field where the California Cuties, famed novelty softball team, play the Dapper Dan Little League managers and coaches at 8 o'clock. The West Coast men's softball team will be attired in women's garb and will present a pre-game variety show in addition to their diamond antics. They appeared here two years ago and made a big hit with local fans. The game is being staged for the benefit of the Dapper Dan Little League.

Chicago Beats Cleveland, 3-0

Dave DeBusschere Hurls Six-Hitter

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave DeBusschere, a gangling rookie who plays professional basketball in the winter, hurled the Chicago White Sox to a 3-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.

DeBusschere, whose record is now 3-4 marked up his first shutout on a 6-hitter. He scored his only other major league victories against the last place Washington Senators.

He was in command against Cleveland from the outset and once his club had staked him to a 3-0 lead in five innings, the 6-7, 22-year-old coasted to the triumph which pulled the second-place White Sox within 8½ games of the league-leading New York Yankees who were rained out at Boston.

Two Aces Same Day Mazzone, Prado 16-2 5th Coach 10 Years "Chick" Davies Back

By C. V. BURNS

TWO holes-in-one were recorded on the same hole Monday at the Cumberland Country Club.

During the first round of the Caddies' Tournament, Tom Hedrick connected on No. 10.

Later in the day, Harry I. Stegmaier, Jr., a student of Santa Clara (Calif.) University, and son of the well known Cumberland lawyer, slammed in an ace on 157-yard No. 10 with a nine iron. Witnesses were Kenneth White, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. E. A. Gentry.

This marks the second time two aces have been made on the same hole the same day at the CCC and both times No. 10 was the target.

Bert Mason and Maurice Milberg made holes-in-one on No. 10 while playing in consecutive foursomes several years ago, according to Carroll Boggs and Dick Buskey.

Paul Owens is the only player to register a pair the same year and that was in 1961.

Four aces have been registered at the Christie Road course this year, upping the total to 71 in the 43-year history of the club. Mrs. Harry Walton and "Chuck" Butt scored earlier this year.

The season record for the course is seven, set in 1958 and equalled in 1961.

LEROY BOLDING, who succeeds Thomas Domen as Southern High School's head football coach is the fifth grid mentor to be named at the Oakland school in ten years.

Bolding was assistant coach last year.

Football was inaugurated at the Garrett County school in 1954 by James DeMoss. He was followed by Dick Travis, Earl "Whitey" Adolfson and Domen, who stayed only one year at Southern High.

Here are the coaches and their records:

1956	Dick Travis	2	7	0

LEO MAZZONE and Johnny Prado, the one-two pitching punch of Westernport's first pennant winning team in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League, boast 8-1 records each and between they have struck out 234 batsmen between them in 121⅔ innings.

Mazzone, a southpaw, who hurled for the first team ever fielded by St. Peter's High School this year as a freshman, whiffed 134 Pony Leaguers in 62⅔ innings while Prado, a righthander, mowed down an even 100 in 59 frames.

Manager Tony Mazzone's champs wound up the campaign with a 19-2 record and nine of the victories came via the shutout route. Prado turned in four whitewashing jobs, Mazzone three and Jack McIntyre and Dale Ryan one each. In six other games the opposition was limited to a single run.

Westernport blanked every team in the league at least once but the LaVale Pirates and they scored only four runs in dropping three straight to the champs. Cresaptown, Lonaconing and the LaVale Cubs were each skunked twice.

"CHICK" DAVIES at 63 is making a comeback in basketball for the 1963-64 season.

The man who made Duquesne University a national basketball power and whose "Iron Dukes" had a 314-105 record from 1924 through 1947, is taking over as coach at Robert Morris Junior College, Pittsburgh — a school without a home court, a 5-20 record last year and rather dim prospects for the coming season.

It will be Davies' first coaching job since the South American games in 1955 when he handled Colombia, national team.

Presently, "Chick" is a senior English teacher at Homestead High School where he coached after leaving Duquesne.

Davies appeared in this section as a player in the early 1920s as a member of the Second Story Morrys whose personnel included Bill Campbell, "Peck" Lee, "Brick" Fidler, "Moon" Klinzing, Dave Mervis, Whitey Lytle, Dave Mervis, etc., The Morrys and Coffey Club were Pittsburgh's topnotch quints of that era.

"Chick" handled several Pennsylvania teams and later served as commissioner of the All-American Pro Basketball League when Cumberland was represented by the Dukes and Sphas in the late 1940s and early 1950s. Other clubs in that circuit included Altoona Flyers, Pittsburgh, Washington, Pa., Beaver Falls, Butler, Wheeling, Youngstown, Dayton, Erie and Johnstown.

Among Cumberland's players were Bob Pence, Lou Bell, George Geatz, Paul Overhaus, "Red" Klotz, Bob Snaith, Gus Frizzell, Bob Johnson, "Whitey" Mathewson, John Murphy, Roger Day, Jim Fahey, Jim Clevenger, etc.

Cumberland, incidentally, won the title in 1948-49, beating Wheeling in the post-season series.

Farmed Out Catcher Blasts Houston's Youth Movement

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Catcher Jim Campbell said Tuesday he will be out of baseball or back in the big leagues next year, but not with the Houston Colts.

"If they don't trade or sell me to another club, or I'm not drafted, I've had it," said Campbell, who was sent to the 89ers in the Pacific Coast League last month.

Campbell said Colt manager Paul Richards "has gone overboard with his youth movement." He mentioned catcher John Bateman, 21, and rookie Rusty Staub.

"Bateman is a big strong boy; he has the best throwing arm I've ever seen, but he's a patsy at the plate," Campbell said.

Of Staub, Campbell said. "He's the most highly publicized .200 batter in baseball."

Campbell will become a draft eligible after this year's Pacific Coast League race ends.

Athletics Top Detroit, 4-2

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City A's scored three unearned runs, two on only one hit in the eighth inning, and whipped the Detroit Tigers 4-2 Tuesday night.

The deciding runs, snapping a 2-2 tie, were scored on a wild throw by first baseman Norm Cash in the eighth. Cash, trying for a force play at third on a sacrifice bunt by Wayne Causey, threw the ball away and both pinch-runner Tony LaRussa and Jose Tartabull scored.

Charlie Lau opened the rally by drawing a walk as a pinch hitter for winning pitcher Ted Bowfield. LaRussa ran for Lau and moved to second on Tartabull's single.

Magazine Asks Venue Change In Bryant Trial

Don't Expect Fair Trial In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The publishers of a national magazine have asked that the trial of Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's $10-million libel suit against them be moved to another state, it was revealed Tuesday.

Curtis Publishing Company filed a change of venue motion in Federal Court here late Monday. Lawyers for Curtis, publisher of the Saturday Evening Post, claimed it would be impossible to obtain a fair trial anywhere in Alabama.

Bryant and former University of Georgia athletic director Wally Butts both filed $10-million suits because of a Post article called "The Story of a College Football Fix." The article alleged that Bryant and Butts conspired to "rig" the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game won by Alabama 35-0.

The trial of Butts' case was nearing completion in Atlanta and pre-trial hearings in Bryant's case were scheduled here for Friday.

In the change of venue motion, Curtis said it and the Post had been subjected to "frequent and widespread attacks throughout the state of Alabama.

Bryant also has a $500,000 suit pending against Curtis for a story entitled "Is College Football Going Berserk?"

Orioles Down Twins, Barber Gets 16th Win

Orsino Homers In 6-1 Victory

MINNEAPOLIS-St. Paul (AP)—Sturdy Steve Barber registered his 16th victory and John Orsino drove in two runs as Baltimore downed Minnesota 6-1 Tuesday night to move within a half game of the third-place Twins.

Barber, who has lost nine, scattered eight Twins hits while striking out nine and walking one.

Harmon Killebrew spoiled Barber's shutout bid in the eighth inning with his 27th home run.

Orsino stroked his 12th homer in leading off the second, and sent home another tally with a single in the third.

Orsino and Killebrew each had two singles in addition to their homers.

Barber doubled home an Oriole run in the sixth. The Birds tacked on two more in the eighth on a wild pitch and Luis Aparicio's single. Boog Powell of the Orioles got his 20th homer in the ninth.

Loser Dick Stigman, 12-11, struck out eight in the seven innings he worked. He is second in the American League in strikeouts with 144.

Best First Baseman Not Limited To One Position

Power Excelling At Second Sack For Minnesota

By BOB MARTEL

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—Earlier this season Minnesota Twins first baseman Vic Power walked into the clubhouse and discovered a rocking chair sitting in front of his locker.

A note attached to the Early American chair read "To Vic Power, your own private rocking chair." The note was signed by an umpire.

To the millions of fans who see Power perform his magic around first base each season, it seems as though Vic might be able to ply his trade from a rocker. But baseball's finest fielding first baseman isn't limited to one position.

Last Saturday catcher Earl Battey suffered a dislocated finger and had to leave the game. Jerry Zimmerman, the only other catcher on the Twins' roster, took Battey's place. After the game manager Sam Mele was asked who would have caught if Zimmerman had been injured.

"Vic Power, of course," answered Mele.

Plays Every Position

Since starting in professional baseball in 1950, Power has played every position except pitcher.

"I pitched some in high school," Power said. "But my arm hurt and I quit."

When Power was stumbling around the .240 batting mark several weeks ago, Mele benched the Puerto Rican in favor of Don Mincher, who began hitting the long ball. It looked as though Power might ride the bench for quite a while.

The Twins' skipper also had benched second baseman Bernie Allen and given the job to Johnny Goryl. When Rich Rollins was hit in the head by a ground ball in New York, Power stepped in and played third.

Takes Over Second

Then when Goryl pulled a muscle, Power moved over to second where he found his batting eye and a permanent job.

"My biggest worry about Power playing second was whether or not he could make the double play," Mele said. "But after I saw him make a couple, I quit worrying."

Power, who admits to 31 years of age but claims he has been playing baseball 17 years has been the American League All-Star first baseman five times. He also has been named the league's best fielding first baseman the past five years.

Power sports a nifty .289 batting average for 10 years in the majors and finished second to Al Kaline in the 1955 batting race.

"It's difficult to assess Power's worth to the club," Mele said. "He can play anywhere for you and can do just about anything with his bat."

"I like playing second base. I think it will add 10 years to my playing career," Power said with a grin.

Reds' Maloney Cools Off Giants, 4-0; Dodgers Lose To Braves, 4-3

Cincinnati Ace Hurls 2-Hitter For 18th Win

Robinson, Pinson Slug Home Runs Off Juan Marichal

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Jim Maloney cooled off the hot San Francisco bats on two hits Tuesday night and Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson clouted two-run homers in a 4-0 Cincinnati triumph.

Robinson's 17th homer came in the fourth inning off Giant ace Juan Marichal after a single by rookie Tom Harper. Pinson's 13th followed a bunt single by Harper in the eighth.

Singles by Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou were the only hits off the 22-year-old Maloney, who now has a one-hitter and two two-hitters this season. He now has five shutouts this season.

The victory was Maloney's 18th in 22 decisions and raised his major league leading winning percentage to .818. He struck out seven to bring his season strikeout total to 187 in 185 innings.

Marichal, who lost his sixth game against 18 wins, allowed 10 hits before being replaced by Bob Bolin after Pinson's homer in the eighth.

Cardinals Win Over Colts, 4-2

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —Ken Boyer drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double and righthander Ernie Broglio scattered eight hits to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-2 win over the Houston Colts here Tuesday night. Stan Musial, 24 hours after announcing his retirement at the end of this season, did not play.

Boyer's blow came in the first inning off Houston starter and loser Bob Bruce. After Curt Flood singled, Bill White walked and Charley James was hit by a pitch Boyer lined a double down the left field line to give the Cards a lead they never lost.

Musial, in his 22nd year in the majors, did not play. He has not appeared against righthanded pitching with any regularity this season.

Broglio, while not sharp, pitched well enough to strand eight Houston base runners and fan eight hitters enroute to his 13th victory. The first Houston run came on Al Spangler's third homer of the season to lead off the first inning. The second Colt run scored in the eighth when John Bateman tripled and Jim Wynn singled.

Grid Coaching Is Hazardous Profession, 94 Colleges Have New Ones For 1963

37 Jobholders Are Rookies; Devore To Tutor Notre Dame

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Another big batch of coaches lost their seats for 1963 in college football's annual game of musical chairs.

At Notre Dame, at Stanford, at Tennessee and at 91 others affiliated with the NCAA there'll be new coaches on the scene this fall as a result of firings, resignations and retirements.

That's 10 more than last year but about average for a hazardous profession in which "building character" is important but not quite as vital as a winning season. Thirty-seven of the new jobholders are rookies on their first head-coaching assignments.

Vols Make Change

Hughie Devore of Notre Dame, John Ralston of Stanford, Jim McDonald of Tennessee, Eddie Crowder of Colorado, Phil Cutchin of Oklahoma State, Jack Green of Vanderbilt and Johnny Pont of Yale head the list of coaches who wound up seated when the music stopped.

The lucky ones also included men in a wide assortment of jobs from Charles Marvin at Adrian, Mich., College through the alphabet to Wilmington, Ohio, College where Don Pinhey has taken over.

Dayton, Toledo and Miami, Ohio, all came up with new coaches. So did Hardin-Simmons, Lafayette, Utah State and Texas Western for a total of 14 among the major group.

Devore's Second Term

Devore, soft-spoken veteran of several college and pro chores, took over for the second time as an interim coach at Notre Dame when Joe Kuharich stepped down after four seasons to join the National Football League as supervisor of officials. Hughie was interim Irish coach in 1945 while Frank Leahy was in the Navy. He won't seek the permanent post this time either but will "take it if it's offered at the end of the year."

Ralston replaced Jack Curtice, long - time mentor at Stanford. Highly successful at Utah State, Ralston moved in after Jack posted a 5-5 record in 1962. Tony Knapp took over at Utah State and Curtice moved down to the Santa Barbara branch of the University of California.

Replaced By Aide

Bowden Wyatt went out at Tennessee and was replaced suddenly by McDonald, an assistant. Crowder came in to lend a more experienced touch to the situation at Colorado where William E. Davis was the emergency coach last season. Cutchin replaced Cliff Speegle who had a 4-6 record at Oklahoma State last year.

Art Guepe, long-time Vanderbilt coach, went out in favor of an aide, Green. Jordan Olivar relinquished the job at Yale which sent a hurry-up call to Miami, Ohio, for Pont. Pont led Miami to an 8-1-1 record last year including a victory over Purdue and a trip to the Tangerine Bowl. Bo Schembechler moved up at Miami.

Howard College of Birmingham, Ala., hired a new coach and so did Howard University of Washington.

Eddie Tryon, veteran at Hobart College of Geneva, N.Y., departed and Alva Kelley, who coached previously for 11 seasons, came out of retirement to take over.

And so it goes. . .nothing to do now but play a football season and wait for the next game of musical chairs.

THE BURNETT NOTES—This is a copy of copies of notes which Atlanta insuranceman George Burnett said he made when he was accidentally connected into a telephone conversation between Wallace Butts, former Universary of Georgia athletic director, and Paul (Bear) Bryant, University of Alabama football coach, prior to the 1962 Alabama-Georgia game. The notes were released by Georgia's attorney general who conducted an investigation before Butts brought suit for $10 million against the Saturday Evening Post.

Atlanta Insurance Agent Gives Surprise Testimony For Butts

Notes In Trial Differ From Ones Seen Last Year

By DON McKEE

ATLANTA (AP)—An Atlanta insurance agent said Tuesday in federal court that notes offered in evidence were not the same ones shown to him last Sept. 13 by George P. Burnett, key witness in a $10 million libel suit arising from football-fix charges. The surprise testimony was given by John Carmichael, called as a witness for Wally Butts, former Georgia athletic director who is suing Curtis Publishing Co. because of a Saturday Evening Post article.

Carmichael, a mostly silent figure in the controversy, said he and Burnett had been associated in a business enterprise and also worked for the same insurance firm.

Carmichael testified Burnett told of overhearing a telephone conversation Sept. 13 between Butts and Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

"Burnett had some notes on the desk," Carmichael testified.

Attorney Allen Lockerman, representing Butts, handed Carmichael the seven pages of notes which Burnett testified on the first day of the trial that he made while listening to the Butts-Bryant call.

"These are not the same notes Mr. Burnett had," Carmichael said.

His testimony was attacked by Lelborn B. Cody, chief counsel for Curtis. Cody asked Carmichael if he had said in sworn testimony prior to the trial that he did not take the notes in his hand and look at them, although Burnett had them laid out.

Carmichael confirmed he had given that testimony.

"I didn't take them in my hands . . . But I looked at them," he said.

Cody sought to introduce evidence that Carmichael once was convicted of larceny in Ohio but this was ruled out by Judge Lewis R. Morgan.

Carmichael also testified that what Burnett told him on Sept. 13 bore little resemblance to what the Post printed in its March 23 issue which charged Butts and Bryant rigged the game between their schools last Sept. 22.

"The only thing I can see in that article that even comes close to what George Burnett told me he heard was . . . that he heard the call. . . . Georgia had added two coaches . . . Some football player was great and Coach Bryant asked Coach Butts if he was going to be home that Sunday."

Carmichael, who said he had known Butts for 15 years "in a casual way," testified that Burnett told him Jan. 30 of a meeting with university officials.

He quoted Burnett as saying: "I got myself in a trap here and I don't know what to do about it."

Attorneys for Butts resumed the reading of testimony taken in New York from free lance writer Frank Graham Jr., author of the Post article.

Graham said he made no attempt to interview Carmichael but got his information from Burnett; Pierre Howard, Burnett's lawyer; Milton Flack, a friend and associate of Burnett; sports editor Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Journal, and newspaper articles.

He said he asked about Carmichael and that both Flack and Howard said, "Carmichael didn't want to be brought in on this."

Carmichael has testified he was standing just outside the office door shortly before Burnett hung up the telephone.

Asked why he didn't check out the story with Carmichael, the writer replied:

"No, I didn't want to talk to Carmichael. . . . They said he didn't want to talk about it . . . I didn't think it was necessary because according to what they told me, he would have denied it."

Graham said newspapers were the source of a statement in the article that Alabama, which won 35-0, was favored by 14 to 17 points in "various betting lines."

Yankees, Red Sox Play Twice Today

BOSTON (UPI) — A heavy shower Tuesday night forced a 24-hour postponement of the scheduled night game between the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

Red Sox officials waited 72 minutes before announcing the game would be played Wednesday night as part of separate day and night games.

A crowd of close to 20,000 had already reached Fenway Park and the total attendance was expected to be close to 30,000 when the postponement was announced.

Stagg, Older Than Collegiate Football, Will Be 101 Friday

Grand Old Man Of Gridiron Paid Visit By Hardin

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — The citizens of Stockton celebrated Amos Alonzo Stagg's forthcoming 101st birthday Tuesday but this year the grand old man of American football did not join them.

Stagg, older than collegiate football itself, will be 101 Friday. He lives in a Stockton convalescent home.

Last year Stagg summoned his energies and made a dramatic appearance at his century birthday party, but this year he could not.

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin, a player for Stagg at old College of the Pacific in 1947, visited the white-haired veteran of 70 years of coaching Tuesday.

"I shook hands with him and he still recognized me," said Hardin, featured speaker at the birthday party sponsored by a civic club.

"He said to me, 'Wayne's a good boy,' and that's something I'll always treasure."

A 3½-foot-high birthday cake had 100 candles on its base and a king-sized 101st candle on its crown.

An iced inscription read:

"The snow of winter may be on his head but the sunshine of eternal spring is still in his heart as Coach Stagg enters his second century of service to the youth of the country."

Stagg, the only man named as both a coach and player to football's Hall of Fame, did not retire until he was 98. During 57 years as a head coach his teams compiled a record of 309 victories, 200 defeats and 35 ties.

As an end at Yale he was named to Walter Camp's first All-America team. As a coach he helped the T formation, wingback formations, forward pass, man-in-motion and numbering of uniforms.

Tokyo Olympic Leaders Ahead Of Schedule

Cage, Swimming Arenas Completed

TOKYO (UPI) — They're hustlin' and bustlin' in Tokyo today to get ready for the 1964 Olympic Games.

The Olympic leaders are ahead of schedule in their building program—but the city of Tokyo is behind.

Officials of the Olympic Games say they are:

—Ready with the basketball arena.

—Ready with the swimming arena.

—Just about ready with the 90,000-seat Olympic Stadium.

—And the marathon course has been set through the city, and already has been used for a couple of test races.

But the rest of Tokyo is a construction shambles. Streets have been ripped up. Old buildings are being torn down. New ones are being constructed or having their faces lifted.

The city, which claims to be the largest in the world with a population of more than 11 million already has one of the finer public transportation systems.

But officials are trying to have completed in time for the Olympic Games a new subway system, a 15-mile monorail that will be the world's longest, and a new super-highway across the town and leading to the Olympic Arena.

They hope to have all this finished in time for the grand opening of the games Oct. 10 next year.

There is a five per cent tax on all hotel rooms and on all purchases over 1,800 yet (about five dollars) to help pay for the Olympic Games.

The whole area around the city lives and breathes the Olympics. Signs proclaiming the games are plastered on all available fence space. Huge electric and neon signs atop the tallest buildings scream out that the Olympics are coming.

Little children in the streets, bartenders, policemen, baseball players and hotel men talk excitedly about it.

All the "Western" hotels were sold out one day after they put their rooms up for rent. Travel agents in Europe and the United States gobbled them up.

Most of the finer Japanese hotels also have sold all their reservations to people coming from the Orient.

There is a housing and rooming shortage in Tokyo under any circumstances, and the Olympics will only complicate things.

A group in Australia, however, has circumvented this problem. It has leased a big ocean liner, will sell round trip tickets on it and then keep it tied at the dock so the passengers may live there during the games.

Spahn Breaks Strikeout Mark For Southpaws

Waddell's Record Of 2,381 Had Stood Since 1910

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, the amazing old gentleman who heads the pitching staff of the Milwaukee Braves, became the greatest southpaw strikeout artist in baseball history Tuesday night when he hurled the Braves to a 4-3 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

When Old Hawk Nose fired a third strike past Dodger pitcher Bob Miller for his fourth strikeout of the game in the seventh inning, it brought his lifetime total to 2,382 and wiped out Rube Waddell's record of 2,381 that had stood since 1910.

The crowd of 13,529 at Milwaukee County Stadium roared its approval with a standing ovation for the man with the thinning hair who scored his latest achievement of a remarkable career at the ripe old baseball age of 42.

Spahn finished with five strikeouts as he won his 14th of the season against five losses. The victory came in his first start since recovering from an arm ailment that had sidelined him since July 29.

Despite the loss, the Dodgers maintained a four game margin atop the National League standings. Second place San Francisco lost to Cincinnati 4-0.

The winning run in Spahn's 341st career victory came in the eighth inning when Denis Manke scored Henry Aaron from third with a sacrifice fly. Aaron led off the inning with a walk and sped to third on a one-out single by Gene Oliver.

Rec Tilt Postponed, Reslated For Today

Yesterday's scheduled opener of the Rec High School Baseball League championship finals between VFW and Toy Shop was postponed because of rain and wet grounds, and rescheduled for today at Municipal Field beginning at 5:45 p. m.

The playoff series is a best-of-three affair, but plans are indefinite concerning the second and, if necessary, the third games.

VFW won the regular season title, then defeated Gurley's in the semi-finals. Second place Toy Shop disposed of 40&8 Club to move into the finals.

Robinson, Pinson Slug Home Runs Off Juan Marichal

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Jim Maloney cooled off the hot San Francisco bats on two hits Tuesday night and Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson clouted two-run homers in a 4-0 Cincinnati triumph.

Robinson's 17th homer came in the fourth inning off Giant ace Juan Marichal after a single by rookie Tom Harper. Pinson's 13th followed a bunt single by Harper in the eighth.

Singles by Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou were the only hits off the 22-year-old Maloney, who now has a one-hitter and two two-hitters this season. He now has five shutouts this season.

The victory was Maloney's 18th in 22 decisions and raised his major league leading winning percentage to .818. He struck out seven to bring his season strikeout total to 187 in 185 innings.

Marichal, who lost his sixth game against 18 wins, allowed 10 hits before being replaced by Bob Bolin after Pinson's homer in the eighth.

Willie Mays, star Giant center fielder, was shifted to shortstop in the eighth. It was the first time Mays ever played any position but center field in the majors.

The triumph for the Reds was their seventh in the last 10 games. It was only the sixth defeat for the Giants in their last 21 contests.

"I didn't take them in my hands . . . But I looked at them," he said.

Cody sought to introduce evidence that Carmichael once was convicted of larceny in Ohio but this was ruled out by Judge Lewis R. Morgan.

Carmichael also testified that what Burnett told him on Sept. 13 bore little resemblance to what the Post printed in its March 23 issue which charged Butts and Bryant rigged the game between their schools last Sept. 22.

"The only thing I can see in that article that even comes close to what George Burnett told me he heard was . . . that he heard the call. . . . Georgia had added two coaches . . . Some football player was great and Coach Bryant asked Coach Butts if he was going to be home that Sunday."

Carmichael, who said he had known Butts for 15 years "in a casual way," testified that Burnett told him Jan. 30 of a meeting with university officials.

He quoted Burnett as saying: "I got myself in a trap here and I don't know what to do about it."

Attorneys for Butts resumed the reading of testimony taken in New York from free lance writer Frank Graham Jr., author of the Post article.

Graham said he made no attempt to interview Carmichael but got his information from Burnett; Pierre Howard, Burnett's lawyer; Milton Flack, a friend and associate of Burnett; sports editor Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Journal, and newspaper articles.

He said he asked about Carmichael and that both Flack and Howard said. "Carmichael didn't want to be brought in on this."

Carmichael has testified he was standing just outside the office door shortly before Burnett hung up the telephone.

Asked why he didn't check out the story with Carmichael, the writer replied:

"No, I didn't want to talk to Carmichael. . . . They said he didn't want to talk about it . . . I didn't think it was necessary because according to what they told me, he would have denied it."

Graham said newspapers were the source of a statement in the article that Alabama, which won 35-0, was favored by 14 to 17 points in "various betting lines."

Yankees, Red Sox Play Twice Today

BOSTON (UPI) — A heavy shower Tuesday night forced a 24-hour postponement of the scheduled night game between the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

Red Sox officials waited 72 minutes before announcing the game would be played Wednesday night as part of separate day and night games.

A crowd of close to 20,000 had already reached Fenway Park and the total attendance was expected to be close to 30,000 when the postponement was announced.

Stagg, Older Than Collegiate Football, Will Be 101 Friday

Grand Old Man Of Gridiron Paid Visit By Hardin

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — The citizens of Stockton celebrated Amos Alonzo Stagg's forthcoming 101st birthday Tuesday but this year the grand old man of American football did not join them.

Stagg, older than collegiate football itself, will be 101 Friday. He lives in a Stockton convalescent home.

Last year Stagg summoned his energies and made a dramatic appearance at his century birthday party, but this year he could not.

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin, a player for Stagg at old College of the Pacific in 1947, visited the white-haired veteran of 70 years of coaching Tuesday.

"I shook hands with him and he still recognized me," said Hardin, featured speaker at the birthday party sponsored by a civic club.

"He said to me, 'Wayne's a good boy,' and that's something I'll always treasure."

A 3½-foot-high birthday cake had 100 candles on its base and a king-sized 101st candle on its crown.

An iced inscription read:

"The snow of winter may be on his head but the sunshine of eternal spring is still in his heart as Coach Stagg enters his second century of service to the youth of the country."

Stagg, the only man named as both a coach and player to football's Hall of Fame, did not retire until he was 98. During 57 years as a head coach his teams compiled a record of 309 victories, 200 defeats and 35 ties.

As an end at Yale he was named to Walter Camp's first All-America team. As a coach he helped the T formation, wingback formations, forward pass, man-in-motion and numbering of uniforms.

Tokyo Olympic Leaders Ahead Of Schedule

Cage, Swimming Arenas Completed

TOKYO (UPI) — They're hustlin' and bustlin' in Tokyo today to get ready for the 1964 Olympic Games.

The Olympic leaders are ahead of schedule in their building program—but the city of Tokyo is behind.

Officials of the Olympic Games say they are:

—Ready with the basketball arena.

—Ready with the swimming arena.

—Just about ready with the 90,000-seat Olympic Stadium.

—And the marathon course has been set through the city, and already has been used for a couple of test races.

But the rest of Tokyo is a construction shambles. Streets have been ripped up. Old buildings are being torn down. New ones are being constructed or having their faces lifted.

The city, which claims to be the largest in the world with a population of more than 11 million already has one of the finer public transportation systems.

But officials are trying to have completed in time for the Olympic Games a new subway system, a 15-mile monorail that will be the world's longest, and a new super-highway across the town and leading to the Olympic Arena.

They hope to have all this finished in time for the grand opening of the games Oct. 10 next year.

There is a five per cent tax on all hotel rooms and on all purchases over 1,800 yet (about five dollars) to help pay for the Olympic Games.

The whole area around the city lives and breathes the Olympics. Signs proclaiming the games are plastered on all available fence space. Huge electric and neon signs atop the tallest buildings scream out that the Olympics are coming.

Little children in the streets, bartenders, policemen, baseball players and hotel men talk excitedly about it.

All the "Western" hotels were sold out one day after they put their rooms up for rent. Travel agents in Europe and the United States gobbled them up.

Most of the finer Japanese hotels also have sold all their reservations to people coming from the Orient.

There is a housing and rooming shortage in Tokyo under any circumstances, and the Olympics will only complicate things.

A group in Australia, however, has circumvented this problem. It has leased a big ocean liner, will sell round trip tickets on it and then keep it tied at the dock so the passengers may live there during the games.

Spahn Breaks Strikeout Mark For Southpaws

Waddell's Record Of 2,381 Had Stood Since 1910

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, the amazing old gentleman who heads the pitching staff of the Milwaukee Braves, became the greatest southpaw strikeout artist in baseball history Tuesday night when he hurled the Braves to a 4-3 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

When Old Hawk Nose fired a third strike past Dodger pitcher Bob Miller for his fourth strikeout of the game in the seventh inning, it brought his lifetime total to 2,382 and wiped out Rube Waddell's record of 2,381 that had stood since 1910.

The crowd of 13,529 at Milwaukee County Stadium roared its approval with a standing ovation for the man with the thinning hair who scored his latest achievement of a remarkable career at the ripe old baseball age of 42.

Spahn finished with five strikeouts as he won his 14th of the season against five losses. The victory came in his first start since recovering from an arm ailment that had sidelined him since July 29.

Despite the loss, the Dodgers maintained a four game margin atop the National League standings. Second place San Francisco lost to Cincinnati 4-0.

The winning run in Spahn's 341st career victory came in the eighth inning when Denis Manke scored Henry Aaron from third with a sacrifice fly. Aaron led off the inning with a walk and sped to third on a one-out single by Gene Oliver.

Rec Tilt Postponed, Reslated For Today

Yesterday's scheduled opener of the Rec High School Baseball League championship finals between VFW and Toy Shop was postponed because of rain and wet grounds, and rescheduled for today at Municipal Field beginning at 5:45 p. m.

The playoff series is a best-of-three affair, but plans are indefinite concerning the second and, if necessary, the third games.

VFW won the regular season title, then defeated Gurley's in the semi-finals. Second place Toy Shop disposed of 40&8 Club to move into the finals.

The bill also denies licenses to promoters or managers who have been convicted of certain felonies within 10 years of the date they apply for the license.

The bill also denies licenses to promoters or managers who have pleaded guilty or offered no defense to such charges. The offenses listed include bribery, extortion, blackmail and all offenses against the public morals and decency.

The act will be effective in 60 days.

Hot Stove Playoffs Resume Thursday

Rain washed out the semi-final round contests of the Hot Stove Baseball League playoffs yesterday and the games have been rescheduled for Thursday at Penn Avenue Field.

The Lions will play the Jaycees at 6 p. m., and the Salvation Army will meet the Outdoor Club at 7:45 p. m.

Salvation Army downed the Outdoor Club, 15-2, and the Lions edged the Jaycees, 1-0, on the opening games of the best-of-three series on Monday.

Colts Release Dee Mackey

Kirchiro Also Cut Loose By Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—New coach Don Shula thinned out two more veterans Tuesday on the Baltimore Colts.

He released End Dee Mackey and Guard Bill Kirchiro who followed the departure of four other members of last year's squad.

Mackey had played tight end for two seasons. Kirchiro, a University of Maryland graduate, was used as a substitute guard last year.

Shula thus has paved the way for keeping four newcomers and perhaps more.

The release of Dee Mackey was a strong sign that Shula is looking for a pair of rookies, Butch Wilson and John Mackey, to fill the blocking end spot.

The Colt roster now numbers 49, 34 veterans and 15 rookies. One of the veterans, End R. C. Owens still is hospitalized with automobile injuries. The National Football League player limit is 37.

Clemens And Hill Signed By Jets

PEEKSILL, N.Y. (AP) — Halfback Bob Clemens and tackle Winston Hill, released recently by the Baltimore Colts, were added to the roster of the New York Jets of the American Football League Tuesday.

Clemens, 6-1 and 208 pounds, was injured much of last season and saw limited action with the Baltimore team in the National Football League. Hill, who is 6-4 and weighs 253, is from Texas Southern and is expected to help on the Jets' offensive line.

Track 'Sour,' Pickles Takes Case To Court

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A Pawtucket man who said being barred from a race track was depriving him of his right to make a living obtained a restraining order Tuesday to prevent the track from keeping him out.

Wallace Pickles charged that a 1960 law giving race tracks the power to determine who is an undersirable person is unconstitutional.

In a bill of complaint filed in Superior Court, Pickles said the law set no standards for determining desirability and its opposite.

He says the management of Lincoln Downs repeatedly has refused to let him in or has thrown him out, without cause and without refunding his money.

Pickles said enforcement of the law is depriving him of his fundamental right to make a living.

Ingemar Johansson May Return–As Ref

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Former world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson may step into the ring again for a fight — but this time as referee.

Promoter Eddie Ahlqvist has asked Ingo to referee the middleweight bout between Sweden's Bo Hoegberg and England's Harry Cott at Faerjestad Aug. 25.

Johansson does not have a referee's license but Ahlqvist hopes he will be given a temporary for this appearance.

ELIMINATIONS

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) — Elimination tournaments on 79 different golf courses were required to qualify the field of 150 that competed in the U.S. Open championship June 20-22.

Four Ex-Champs Seek Women's Amateur Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — The field for the 63rd National Women's Amateur golf championship Aug. 19-24, including four former champions, was announced Tuesday by the U.S. Golf Association.

JoAnne Gunderson of Providence, R.I., the defender and one of six players who won the title three times, headed the list. She won in 1957 and 1960 as well as last year.

Other former champions in the 128-player field are Mrs. Anne Quast Welts of Mount Vernon, Wash., winner in 1958 and 1961; Barbara McIntire, Colorado Springs, Colo., the 1959 champion, and Mrs. Grace Lenczyk Cronin of Hartford, Conn., the 1948 winner.

The tournament will be played at the Taconic Golf Club of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. The championship is match play with seven rounds, all at 18 holes except the final at 36.

SPITBALLS

CHICAGO (UPI) When baseball outlawed the "spitball" in 1920 only 17 pitchers registered as spitball throwers and were allowed to use the pitch as long as they remained in the game. Many others failed to register because they thought the rule wouldn't stick.

Panch Enters Ford In Mountaineer 300

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The car that won the "Daytona 500" last February has entered the "Mountaineer 300 NASCAR Grand National" race to be held here Sunday.

The 1963 Ford owned by Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va., was entered by Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Panch will drive the same car that was piloted by DeWayne (Tiny) Lund and won $27,000 at the "Daytona 500." Panch was scheduled to drive the car but was seriously injured prior to the race and turned the wheel over to Lund.

Panch's entry will give the Ford ranks a powerful one two punch since Freddie Lorenzen of Charlotte, N. C., has already filed his entry with a 1963 fastback Ford. The duo will be gunning for over $12,000 in cash prizes offered by the West Virginia International Speedway.

DOUBLE WINNER — Only double winner in the National A.A.U. men's outdoor swim championships at Oak Park, Ill., was Don Schollander, 17-year-old member of the Santa Clara, Calif., swim team. Don won the 200 meters and the 400 meters, breaking the world mark in the first event.

Boy Collapses, Dies At Grid Practice

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 16-year-old boy, Stanley Munns, collapsed and died Tuesday at an impromptu football practice session.

Police said Munns and other boys were doing calisthenics and running and jumping but that Munns had no particular body contact with the others. The cause of death was not immediately determined.

The youths were practicing in a park.

Tony Esposito Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Gesualde V. (Tony) Esposito, 66, custodian of the jockey rooms at Washington and Arlington parks for the last 12 years, died Tuesday of a heart attack.

Esposito was a resident of Lexington, Ky., and had been in racing for some 50 years.

Jocko Conlon Out With Foot Injury

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Warren Giles of the National League announced Tuesday that veteran Umpire Jocko Conlan would be sidelined indefinitely because of a foot injury.

Giles called up Bill Williams, who had been on option to the International League, to replace Conlan.

Colts Release Dee Mackey

Kirchiro Also Cut Loose By Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—New coach Don Shula thinned out two more veterans Tuesday on the Baltimore Colts.

He released End Dee Mackey and Guard Bill Kirchiro who followed the departure of four other members of last year's squad.

Mackey had played tight end for two seasons. Kirchiro, a University of Maryland graduate, was used as a substitute guard last year.

Shula thus has paved the way for keeping four newcomers and perhaps more.

The release of Dee Mackey was a strong sign that Shula is looking for a pair of rookies, Butch Wilson and John Mackey, to fill the blocking end spot.

The Colt roster now numbers 49, 34 veterans and 15 rookies. One of the veterans, End R. C. Owens still is hospitalized with automobile injuries. The National Football League player limit is 37.

Clemens And Hill Signed By Jets

PEEKSILL, N.Y. (AP) — Halfback Bob Clemens and tackle Winston Hill, released recently by the Baltimore Colts, were added to the roster of the New York Jets of the American Football League Tuesday.

Clemens, 6-1 and 208 pounds, was injured much of last season and saw limited action with the Baltimore team in the National Football League. Hill, who is 6-4 and weighs 253, is from Texas Southern and is expected to help on the Jets' offensive line.

Track 'Sour,' Pickles Takes Case To Court

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A Pawtucket man who said being barred from a race track was depriving him of his right to make a living obtained a restraining order Tuesday to prevent the track from keeping him out.

Wallace Pickles charged that a 1960 law giving race tracks the power to determine who is an undersirable person is unconstitutional.

In a bill of complaint filed in Superior Court, Pickles said the law set no standards for determining desirability and its opposite.

He says the management of Lincoln Downs repeatedly has refused to let him in or has thrown him out, without cause and without refunding his money.

Pickles said enforcement of the law is depriving him of his fundamental right to make a living.

Ingemar Johansson May Return—As Ref

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Former world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson may step into the ring again for a fight — but this time as referee.

Promoter Eddie Ahlqvist has asked Ingo to referee the middleweight bout between Sweden's Bo Hoegberg and England's Harry Cott at Faerjestad Aug. 25.

Johansson does not have a referee's license but Ahlqvist hopes he will be given a temporary for this appearance.

ELIMINATIONS

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) — Elimination tournaments on 79 different golf courses were required to qualify the field of 150 that competed in the U.S. Open championship June 20-22.

Four Ex-Champs Seek Women's Amateur Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — The field for the 63rd National Women's Amateur golf championship Aug. 19-24, including four former champions, was announced Tuesday by the U.S. Golf Association.

JoAnne Gunderson of Providence, R.I., the defender and one of six players who won the title three times, headed the list. She won in 1957 and 1960 as well as last year.

Other former champions in the 128-player field are Mrs. Anne Quast Welts of Mount Vernon, Wash., winner in 1958 and 1961; Barbara McIntire, Colorado Springs, Colo., the 1959 champion, and Mrs. Grace Lenczyk Cronin of Hartford, Conn., the 1948 winner.

The tournament will be played at the Taconic Golf Club of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. The championship is match play with seven rounds, all at 18 holes except the final at 36.

SPITBALLS

CHICAGO (UPI) When baseball outlawed the "spitball" in 1920 only 17 pitchers registered as spitball throwers and were allowed to use the pitch as long as they remained in the game. Many others failed to register because they thought the rule wouldn't stick.

Panch Enters Ford In Mountaineer 300

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The car that won the "Daytona 500" last February has entered the "Mountaineer 300 NASCAR Grand National" race to be held here Sunday.

The 1963 Ford owned by Glenn Wood of Stuart, Va., was entered by Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Panch will drive the same car that was piloted by DeWayne (Tiny) Lund and won $27,000 at the "Daytona 500." Panch was scheduled to drive the car but was seriously injured prior to the race and turned the wheel over to Lund.

Panch's entry will give the Ford ranks a powerful one two punch since Freddie Lorenzen of Charlotte, N. C., has already filed his entry with a 1963 fastback Ford. The duo will be gunning for over $12,000 in cash prizes offered by the West Virginia International Speedway.

DOUBLE WINNER — Only double winner in the National A.A.U. men's outdoor swim championships at Oak Park, Ill., was Don Schollander, 17-year-old member of the Santa Clara, Calif., swim team. Don won the 200 meters and the 400 meters, breaking the world mark in the first event.

Boy Collapses, Dies At Grid Practice

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 16-year-old boy, Stanley Munns, collapsed and died Tuesday at an impromptu football practice session.

Police said Munns and other boys were doing calisthenics and running and jumping but that Munns had no particular body contact with the others. The cause of death was not immediately determined.

The youths were practicing in a park.

Tony Esposito Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Gesualde V. (Tony) Esposito, 66, custodian of the jockey rooms at Washington and Arlington parks for the last 12 years, died Tuesday of a heart attack.

Esposito was a resident of Lexington, Ky., and had been in racing for some 50 years.

Jocko Conlon Out With Foot Injury

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Warren Giles of the National League announced Tuesday that veteran Umpire Jocko Conlan would be sidelined indefinitely because of a foot injury.

Giles called up Bill Williams, who had been on option to the International League, to replace Conlan.

Tigers Sign Panther

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have signed University of Pittsburgh shortstop Al Ricciuti to a 1964 contract.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most grain futures rallied and ended firm Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off ⅛ to up ¾; corn up ½ to 1¼; oats up ⅜ to ½; rye up ⅞ to 1¼; and soybeans up up ⅜ to 1⅞.

Soybeans started mixed and rallied more than 2 cents a bushel, but most deliveries settled back to firm levels on late selling. August beans gained more than a cent. The market derived strength from government figures that showed export inspections so far this season to be almost 23 million bushels larger than a year ago.

Wheat started weak on large crop prospects but nearby contracts ended steady and distant firm. Estimates by exporters that sales of wheat this week may exceed 13 million bushels attracted general buying and covering by local shorts.

Buying by exporters and elevator dealers supported corn prices despite good weather and a favorable weekly crop report.

Oats firmed with corn in spreading activity. Rye ended firm in quiet trade.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most grain futures rallied and ended firm Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off ⅛ to up ¾; corn up ½ to 1¼; oats up ⅜ to ½; rye up ⅞ to 1¼; and soybeans up up ⅜ to 1⅞.

Soybeans started mixed and rallied more than 2 cents a bushel, but most deliveries settled back to firm levels on late selling. August beans gained more than a cent. The market derived strength from government figures that showed export inspections so far this season to be almost 23 million bushels larger than a year ago.

Wheat started weak on large crop prospects but nearby contracts ended steady and distant firm. Estimates by exporters that sales of wheat this week may exceed 13 million bushels attracted general buying and covering by local shorts.

Buying by exporters and elevator dealers supported corn prices despite good weather and a favorable weekly crop report.

Oats firmed with corn in spreading activity. Rye ended firm in quiet trade.

Five Persons Hurt In Crash At Clarysville

Two Cars Collide At Intersection

Five persons were injured, three of them being hospitalized, late yesterday afternoon in a two-car collision at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Maryland 55, the Vale Summit Road.

Herbert C. Logsdon, 53, and his wife, Dorothy Logsdon, 46, of Hagerstown, were taken to Miners Hospital and later were transferred to Sacred Heart Hospital where they were admitted.

Mrs. Effie Steele, 51, of 121 Bowery Street, Frostburg, was admitted to Miners Hospital. She sustained a possible fracture of her left shoulder and bruises of her body.

Mrs. Logsdon sustained a fractured jaw, laceration of her left leg and a back injury, severe laceration of his lower lip and bruises of his body.

Edward Joel Steele, 16, son of Mrs. Steele, was the driver of one of the cars but was not seriously injured, although he complained of pain.

Vickie Logsdon, 15, of RD 4, Brazil, Ind., a niece of the Logsdon couple, was a passenger in their car and was treated and released from Miners Hospital.

Trooper Paul J. Fiorita of the State Police said young Steele was driving north on the Vale Summit Road and apparently failed to give the right of way to the Logsdon car, which was traveling east on Route 40.

Both vehicles were damaged extensively. The Logsdons had been visiting in Indiana and were on their way home with their niece, who planned a vacation at their home in Hagerstown.

The accident occurred at 4:45 p. m. Trooper Fiorita added that injuries to the Logsdon couple could have been more serious had they not been wearing safety belts.

Playground Handicraft Display

Judy Geiger, director of Columbia Street Playground, is seen arranging part of the handicraft display being sponsored by the City Recreation Department. Some 2,000 articles, made on the city's 14 playgrounds, are on exhibit in a vacant storeroom at Bedford and Centre streets. Among the articles seen here are plastic dogs, stained glass articles and piggy banks.

Handicraft Display To Open Today

Playground Art To Be Exhibited

The Cumberland Recreation Department will open its annual handicraft display in a vacant storeroom at North Centre and Bedford streets.

The display features more than 2,000 articles made by youngsters attending 12 of the city's 14 playgrounds, according to Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor.

The display will be open to the public today, tomorrow and Friday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. and on Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. A member of the playground staff will be on hand to explain how the articles are made.

This year's display contains two new crafts, stained glass art and plastic dogs, and a number of examples of each craft are included.

Are Most Popular

Most popular this year are the poodle dogs. They are made of rosettes, formed by cutting plastic bags into strips, and tied in place over a body made from two coat hangers.

A few of the pets were made from colored facial tissues.

Mrs. Hogan said the poodles have been so popular that people have asked children on the playground to make them one.

The second new craft, stained glass painting, did not prove to be quite so popular but is expected to go into fuller use next summer.

In this craft, thin strips of lead are glued to flat glass or bottles to outline the design and stained glass paint is used to complete the picture.

Each of the 12 grounds which is exhibiting has chosen representative arts and craft work done on the playground.

Will Hold Derby

One interesting exhibit, entered by Pennsylvania Avenue Playground, consists of carts, made on the playground, which will be used in a soap box derby which will be held on the grounds after the playground season ends.

Other articles on display include paper mache vases, waste paper baskets and decorative balloons, Japanes folding tissue paper painting.

Plaster of paris molds, plaques made from records, bird cages made of colored soda straws, crepe paper raffia art, sawdust clay figures and vases are also included.

A few examples of crushed stone paintings are included along with shell and gimp work.

Double Rainbow Is Seen Here

A magnificent double rainbow was seen here early last night as one of the welcome showers ended.

The lower, or primary rainbow, exhibited all of the colors of the spectrum and lasted for several minutes. Above it appeared a secondary, and much fainter, rainbow.

Rainbows are formed opposite the sun by refraction and reflection of the sun's rays in drops of rain.

Optimists To Meet

The Cumberland Optimist Club will meet today at 6:15 p. m. at the Central YMCA. A representative of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company will be the speaker.

Governor Hopes Democrats Will Avoid Primary

Declines To Close Door On Candidacy

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes expressed hope Tuesday that Maryland Democrats will avoid a rough and tumble primary for the U.S. Senate seat which will be at stake next year.

The seat is now held by Republican J. Glenn Beall, who is expected to seek a third straight term.

"I hope we (the Democrats) can come up with a candidate we can all support," Tawes told a news conference.

The 69-year-old state party chief said he is not a candidate himself "at the present time . . . and it's doubtful I will be." But he refused to close the door on the possibility of running if it should prove necessary for party harmony.

"I can't answer that question," Tawes said.

Tydings May Run

He indicated, however, that he hoped the situation would not arise.

"It is my desire and my aim to continue as governor to the end of my term, at which time I have no further aspiration for public office," Tawes said. His second term runs through 1966.

U.S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings, a close friend of President Kennedy and his brother Robert, is expected to run for nomination to the Senate seat.

Political associates of Tawes are trying to persuade State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein to run. He would have organization backing against Tydings or any other candidate and it would ease the path for Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan to run for governor in 1966.

Goldstein and Finan are regarded by political insiders as the probable chief contenders for the Democratic governorship nomination in 1966.

The governor refused to speculate on any Senate candidates.

"There has been a lot of conversation about it, but no one is in the field as a candidate right now," he said. "I don't think there will be much activity until after the vacation season . . . in late September. You'll see some action then."

In other matters touched on at his meeting with reporters, the governor said:

Will Act Promptly

1. He believes the Board of Public Works will be willing to hold a second hearing, in Worcester County, on the question of federal acquisition of Assateague Island if county officials still desire it after this Thursday's hearing in Baltimore. They had sought transfer of the hearing from Baltimore to the county.

2. He has not yet received any request for federal disaster aid to Maryland farmers as a result of the drought, but will act on it promptly when requested by the agricultural committee which initiates such matters. The committee is to hold a meeting next week.

3. He considers Maryland still in the running for location of a federal environmental health center which North Carolina is also trying to obtain.

4. He understands Maryland Congressmen are seeking aid of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in trying to determine cause and prevention of mass fish deaths such as those now cluttering Chesapeake Bay shores. Maryland and Virginia biologists are working together to try to solve the problem.

244 Cattle Entered For Fair

Signup Deadline 5 P. M. Monday

Approximately 244 head of cattle will be on exhibit at the Greater Cumberland Fair which opens Monday at Fairgo, according to Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent, who said 15 residents of the tri-state area have entered dairy and beef cattle and will be seeking top honors in the judging competition.

Beginning at 9 a. m. Tuesday Ayrshire dairy cattle will be judged by Allen Hill, a Harford County breeder. The Jerseys will be judged by Charles Shaw of Washington County.

Kenneth Allman, dairy herdsman at the University of Maryland, will judge the Holsteins and Guernseys.

The beef cattle, Aberdeen-Angus and Herefords, will be judged by Dr. J. R. Ferguson, animal science department of the university.

Mr. Steger said the livestock will move into the fair grounds area over the weekend and the deadline for the animals to be on the premises is 5 p. m. Monday.

Exhibitors and the number of cattle they plan to enter in the competition include:

Ayrshires — Robert Moore, Mt. Savage, 12; William I. Shank and Sons, Hagerstown, 22; and Sam Diehl, Route 3, Bedford, 24.

Holsteins — A. Doty Remsburg, Jefferson, 16; Randolph Hite, RD 3, Bedford, 23; and Oren Bender, Accident, three, including his champion cow shown at the recent Garrett County Fair.

Guernseys — James I. Robison, Mt. Savage, 14 and R. A. McCauly, Hagerstown, 25.

Jerseys — Braden King of Boonsboro, 25, and George Stiles, also of Boonsboro, 28.

Pine Pulpwood Conference Set September 12

Will Be Held In Petersburg

Final plans for the South Branch Conference On Pine Pulpwood September 12 at the American Legion Home in Petersburg, W. Va., have been announced by J. T. Slocomb, industrial forester and general chairman of the day-long program.

About 150 pulpwood producers, land owners, foresters and other interested persons are expected to attend the public meeting.

Purpose of the program is to show how to grow and harvest the Virginia pine trees profitably. The committee in charge of arrangements for the program points out that some $1 million a year is now brought into the South Branch Valley through the sale of this tree and that there is a ready market and a bright future for this "scrub pine."

The conference committee includes West Virginia state foresters, land owners, pulpwood producers and industries.

The morning session will be opened by Hans McCourt, a member of West Virginia Gov. Barron's committee on wood utilization, followed by a talk on the "History and Economics of Virginia Pine" by Ted Fearnow, assistant regional forester for the easter region of the U.S. Forest Service at Upper Darby, Pa.

A talk on the "Silvics of Virginia Pine," by Dr. Ken Carvell, associate professor of siliculture at West Virginia University, will conclude the early session.

The afternoon session will include remarks on "How to Successfully Grow and Reproduce Virginia Pine" by E. J. Matics, formerly head of West Virginia Pulp and Paper's experimental forestry operations near Parkersburg and now wood procurement manager of the company's Covington, Va., paper mill and a talk on "How to Get On-The-Ground Advice," by Lester McClung, state forester for the Department of Natural Resources in Charleston, W. Va.

West Virginia state wood chopping champion Victor Hewitt will give a special exhibition, and a South Branch Valley wood chopping contest will be conducted in the afternoon.

CURA Will Meet

Directors of the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency will hold a regularly scheduled meeting Thursday at 1:15 p. m. in City Hall.

Local Officials Warn Against Loan Adjusting

Getty Proposes Abolishment

State's Attorney James S. Getty and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, have issued warnings to residents of the area concerning debt-adjusting or debt-managing companies, one of which recently victimized a number of area persons.

Mr. Getty said he has written letters to Sen. George R. Hughes Jr. of Allegany County and Del. Charles M. See, chairman of the county delegation, to support legislative action which will lead to the abolishment of such agencies in Maryland.

The state's attorney said his request was based on the number of persons who were recently victimized in Cumberland. He added that these cases are still being investigated by County Investigator William E. Baker.

Mr. Getty said, "People already overburdened with debts by seeking debt consolidation just add to their precarious situation by paying a high service fee to the company. In these cases they usually make matters worse rather than better."

He added that in the last session of the General Assembly, House Bill 645 regulating debt management companies passed the House of Delegates and was referred by the Senate to the Legislative Council for study. Mr. Getty said he plans to turn over all case histories of those persons victimized to Del J. Glenn Beall Jr. to be used at Legislative Council hearings in support of the proposal to abolish these companies.

Sixteen other states presently have laws which forbid operation in their respective states, Mr. Getty said.

Mr. Petersen said that despite warnings issued by the Chamber of Commerce, his organization has received a flood of inquiries concerning these companies.

"Despite suspicions, the Chamber cannot name any particular company as being out to bilk the public. We do point out, however, that we recently have had a very bad experience with a local branch of an out-of-district firm which resulted in losses to many people who, already overburdened with debts, could least afford it," Mr. Petersen said.

Mr. Petersen said the Chamber also supports legislation in Maryland which would outlaw these firms. He concluded by saying that until these agencies are regulated or prohibited, the Chamber of Commerce can be of service only by calling the attention of the public to the possibilities of further indebtedness on the part of potential users of this service.

The National Better Business Bureau recently stated that 16 states have outlawed the operation of these firms because the field is so "ridden with unscrupulous promoters that it is impossible to control."

Two Brothers Struck By Car In Midlothian

Alfred McMillan, 5, Pinned Under Wheel

Two young brothers from Detroit who were visiting their aunt and uncle in Midlothian yesterday were hospitalized after being struck by their father's parked car which drifted down the street near their relatives' home.

Alfred McMillan, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McMillan, Detroit, and his four-year-old brother, Patrick, were injured in the accident at 1 p. m. near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Plummer.

Quick action by a neighbor averted more serious injuries to Alfred, whose right arm was fractured when it was run over by a wheel of the automobile, police said.

The car would have run over Alfred had it not been stopped by the neighbor, according to police, who said the younger of the two brothers was struck first by the moving vehicle and was knocked to the side.

Alfred was pinned under the wheel of the car after it stopped. Patrick was taken to Miners Hospital, where his condition last night was reported as "satisfactory."

Attaches said he sustained lacerations and abrasions and an injury to his head.

Alfred sustained a fractured right arm, multiple abrasions of the left arm, possible internal injuries and abrasions of the chest and abdomen. His condition is "satisfactory".

The father of the two boys told Trooper Paul J. Fiorita of the State Police that the youngsters had been playing nearby when the car drifted and struck them.

Playground Handicraft Display

Judy Geiger, director of Columbia Street Playground, is seen arranging part of the handicraft display being sponsored by the City Recreation Department. Some 2,000 articles, made on the city's 14 playgrounds, are on exhibit in a vacant storeroom at Bedford and Centre streets. Among the articles seen here are plastic dogs, stained glass articles and piggy banks.

Handicraft Display To Open Today

Playground Art To Be Exhibited

The Cumberland Recreation Department will open its annual handicraft display in a vacant storeroom at North Centre and Bedford streets.

The display features more than 2,000 articles made by youngsters attending 12 of the city's 14 playgrounds, according to Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor.

The display will be open to the public today, tomorrow and Friday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. and on Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. A member of the playground staff will be on hand to explain how the articles are made.

This year's display contains two new crafts, stained glass art and plastic dogs, and a number of examples of each craft are included.

Are Most Popular

Most popular this year are the poodle dogs. They are made of rosettes, formed by cutting plastic bags into strips, and tied in place over a body made from two coat hangers.

A few of the pets were made from colored facial tissues.

Mrs. Hogan said the poodles have been so popular that people have asked children on the playground to make them one.

The second new craft, stained glass painting, did not prove to be quite so popular but is expected to go into fuller use next summer.

In this craft, thin strips of lead are glued to flat glass or bottles to outline the design and stained glass paint is used to complete the picture.

Each of the 12 grounds which is exhibiting has chosen representative arts and craft work done on the playground.

Will Hold Derby

One interesting exhibit, entered by Pennsylvania Avenue Playground, consists of carts, made on the playground, which will be used in a soap box derby which will be held on the grounds after the playground season ends.

Other articles on display include paper mache vases, waste paper baskets and decorative balloons, Japanes folding tissue paper painting.

Plaster of paris molds, plaques made from records, bird cages made of colored soda straws, crepe paper raffia art, sawdust clay figures and vases are also included.

A few examples of crushed stone paintings are included along with shell and gimp work.

Double Rainbow Is Seen Here

A magnificent double rainbow was seen here early last night as one of the welcome showers ended.

The lower, or primary rainbow, exhibited all of the colors of the spectrum and lasted for several minutes. Above it appeared a secondary, and much fainter, rainbow.

Rainbows are formed opposite the sun by refraction and reflection of the sun's rays in drops of rain.

Optimists To Meet

The Cumberland Optimist Club will meet today at 6:15 p. m. at the Central YMCA. A representative of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company will be the speaker.

Governor Hopes Democrats Will Avoid Primary

Declines To Close Door On Candidacy

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes expressed hope Tuesday that Maryland Democrats will avoid a rough and tumble primary for the U.S. Senate seat which will be at stake next year.

The seat is now held by Republican J. Glenn Beall, who is expected to seek a third straight term.

"I hope we (the Democrats) can come up with a candidate we can all support," Tawes told a news conference.

The 69-year-old state party chief said he is not a candidate himself "at the present time . . . and it's doubtful I will be." But he refused to close the door on the possibility of running if it should prove necessary for party harmony.

"I can't answer that question," Tawes said.

Tydings May Run

He indicated, however, that he hoped the situation would not arise.

"It is my desire and my aim to continue as governor to the end of my term, at which time I have no further aspiration for public office," Tawes said. His second term runs through 1966.

U.S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings, a close friend of President Kennedy and his brother Robert, is expected to run for nomination to the Senate seat.

Political associates of Tawes are trying to persuade State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein to run. He would have organization backing against Tydings or any other candidate and it would ease the path for Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan to run for governor in 1966.

Goldstein and Finan are regarded by political insiders as the probable chief contenders for the Democratic governorship nomination in 1966.

The governor refused to speculate on any Senate candidates.

"There has been a lot of conversation about it, but no one is in the field as a candidate right now," he said. "I don't think there will be much activity until after the vacation season . . . in late September. You'll see some action then."

In other matters touched on at his meeting with reporters, the governor said:

Will Act Promptly

1. He believes the Board of Public Works will be willing to hold a second hearing, in Worcester County, on the question of federal acquisition of Assateague Island if county officials still desire it after this Thursday's hearing in Baltimore. They had sought transfer of the hearing from Baltimore to the county.

2. He has not yet received any request for federal disaster aid to Maryland farmers as a result of the drought, but will act on it promptly when requested by the agricultural committee which initiates such matters. The committee is to hold a meeting next week.

3. He considers Maryland still in the running for location of a federal environmental health center which North Carolina is also trying to obtain.

4. He understands Maryland Congressmen are seeking aid of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in trying to determine cause and prevention of mass fish deaths such as those now cluttering Chesapeake Bay shores. Maryland and Virginia biologists are working together to try to solve the problem.

Pine Pulpwood Conference Set September 12

Will Be Held In Petersburg

Final plans for the South Branch Conference On Pine Pulpwood September 12 at the American Legion Home in Petersburg, W. Va., have been announced by J. T. Slocomb, industrial forester and general chairman of the day-long program.

About 150 pulpwood producers, land owners, foresters and other interested persons are expected to attend the public meeting.

Purpose of the program is to show how to grow and harvest the Virginia pine trees profitably. The committee in charge of arrangements for the program points out that some $1 million a year is now brought into the South Branch Valley through the sale of this tree and that there is a ready market and a bright future for this "scrub pine."

The conference committee includes West Virginia state foresters, land owners, pulpwood producers and industries.

The morning session will be opened by Hans McCourt, a member of West Virginia Gov. Barron's committee on wood utilization, followed by a talk on the "History and Economics of Virginia Pine" by Ted Fearnow, assistant regional forester for the easter region of the U.S. Forest Service at Upper Darby, Pa.

A talk on the "Silvics of Virginia Pine," by Dr. Ken Carvell, associate professor of siliculture at West Virginia University, will conclude the early session.

The afternoon session will include remarks on "How to Successfully Grow and Reproduce Virginia Pine" by E. J. Matics, formerly head of West Virginia Pulp and Paper's experimental forestry operations near Parkersburg and now wood procurement manager of the company's Covington, Va., paper mill and a talk on "How to Get On-The-Ground Advice," by Lester McClung, state forester for the Department of Natural Resources in Charleston, W. Va.

West Virginia state wood chopping champion Victor Hewitt will give a special exhibition, and a South Branch Valley wood chopping contest will be conducted in the afternoon.

Local Officials Warn Against Loan Adjusting

Getty Proposes Abolishment

State's Attorney James S. Getty and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, have issued warnings to residents of the area concerning debt-adjusting or debt-managing companies, one of which recently victimized a number of area persons.

Mr. Getty said he has written letters to Sen. George R. Hughes Jr. of Allegany County and Del. Charles M. See, chairman of the county delegation, to support legislative action which will lead to the abolishment of such agencies in Maryland.

The state's attorney said his request was based on the number of persons who were recently victimized in Cumberland. He added that these cases are still being investigated by County Investigator William E. Baker.

Mr. Getty said, "People already overburdened with debts by seeking debt consolidation just add to their precarious situation by paying a high service fee to the company. In these cases they usually make matters worse rather than better."

He added that in the last session of the General Assembly, House Bill 645 regulating debt management companies passed the House of Delegates and was referred by the Senate to the Legislative Council for study. Mr. Getty said he plans to turn over all case histories of those persons victimized to Del J. Glenn Beall Jr. to be used at Legislative Council hearings in support of the proposal to abolish these companies.

Sixteen other states presently have laws which forbid operation in their respective states, Mr. Getty said.

Mr. Petersen said that despite warnings issued by the Chamber of Commerce, his organization has received a flood of inquiries concerning these companies.

"Despite suspicions, the Chamber cannot name any particular company as being out to bilk the public. We do point out, however, that we recently have had a very bad experience with a local branch of an out-of-district firm which resulted in losses to many people who, already overburdened with debts, could least afford it," Mr. Petersen said.

Mr. Petersen said the Chamber also supports legislation in Maryland which would outlaw these firms. He concluded by saying that until these agencies are regulated or prohibited, the Chamber of Commerce can be of service only by calling the attention of the public to the possibilities of further indebtedness on the part of potential users of this service.

The National Better Business Bureau recently stated that 16 states have outlawed the operation of these firms because the field is so "ridden with unscrupulous promoters that it is impossible to control."

Alfred McMillan, 5, Pinned Under Wheel

Two young brothers from Detroit who were visiting their aunt and uncle in Midlothian yesterday were hospitalized after being struck by their father's parked car which drifted down the street near their relatives' home.

Alfred McMillan, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McMillan, Detroit, and his four-year-old brother, Patrick, were injured in the accident at 1 p. m. near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Plummer.

Quick action by a neighbor averted more serious injuries to Alfred, whose right arm was fractured when it was run over by a wheel of the automobile, police said.

The car would have run over Alfred had it not been stopped by the neighbor, according to police, who said the younger of the two brothers was struck first by the moving vehicle and was knocked to the side.

Alfred was pinned under the wheel of the car after it stopped. Patrick was taken to Miners Hospital, where his condition last night was reported as "satisfactory."

Attaches said he sustained lacerations and abrasions and an injury to his head.

Alfred sustained a fractured right arm, multiple abrasions of the left arm, possible internal injuries and abrasions of the chest and abdomen. His condition is "satisfactory".

The father of the two boys told Trooper Paul J. Fiorita of the State Police that the youngsters had been playing nearby when the car drifted and struck them.
